

The Kingston Daily Freeman.

FOUNDED IN 1871.

CITY OF KINGSTON, N. Y., FRIDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 28, 1921.

PRICE THREE CENTS.

ANNOUNCE BRIDGE OPENING SOON

Arrangements So Far Make Celebration Loom as One of Biggest Events in Ulster County's History

No definite plans were announced Friday evening at a meeting of the executive and general committees in charge of the celebration on the opening of the Rondout creek bridge. The meeting was held at the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce and practically every committee was represented.

At the present time the date of the opening is not known as the State Commissioner of Highways Sisson, this date will probably be known early next week and then plans will rapidly take form.

Committees in charge of the various matters were appointed at a meeting held October 19, and since that date plans have been made insofar as it was possible until the date is known.

At this meeting it was practically decided that the celebration be opened with a big dinner at noon, which will be held at the armory. Following the dinner there will be a big parade, in which every organization in Kingston and Ulster county will be invited to participate as well as various officials, societies and lodges throughout the state and adjoining states. The parade will proceed to the bridge and possibly across the new bridge and will then be dismissed and the public exercises, speeches, etc. will be held.

It is planned to have Governor Miller as one of the speakers and invitations will be extended to other officials and ex-officials, including Governor Smith and former State Highway Commissioner Greene, under whose administrations the actual work was commenced.

Mayor Canfield presided at the meeting and reports of the various chairmen of committees were received. Many of the committees have been unable to make any definite plans or arrangements as yet until the date has been determined.

E. W. Hathaway of the invitations committee and Judge Joseph M. Fowler of the speakers' committee have been unable to go forward with plans. As soon as the highway department learns from Terry & Tench will have the work on the bridge completed and selects a date both committees will get busy.

A report of the dinner committee, Herbert C. chairman, was received. The dinner will be held at noon at the state armory and plans will be made to care for everyone. Eight hundred may be cared for at the armory at the dinner.

The publicity committee, Roy M. Sullivan chairman, reported activity and announced that several plans were being made to give publicity throughout the state and adjoining states as soon as a definite date was announced.

Peter D. Kullman of the decorations committee has made arrangements for proper decorations and urges that every property owner along the route of march and all over the city make a special effort to decorate. The automobiles committee, Dr. Rose chairman, will provide automobiles for officials who have no cars as well as for members of the G. A. R. No report was received from the reception or information committee.

Captain Everett Fowler of the parade committee has full charge of the parade which will be formed immediately after the dinner at the armory and will proceed from Pine Grove avenue downtown to the bridge where it will be dismissed and the public exercises held. At the meeting it was decided that the celebration was in the lower end of the city and the majority of the people would be in the center of the city and going downtown to attend the public exercises it would be unnecessary to have the participants in the parade march all the way from the upper section of the city. The parade will probably start about 2 o'clock and sufficient time must be allowed after the parade for the exercises and ceremonies at the bridge.

The date of the bridge opening will be made known early next week and the committees will immediately set to work and make plans for one of the biggest celebrations in Ulster county's history. The people of Kingston, the towns of Esopus, Ulster county and the state of New York will all be benefited by the opening of the Rondout Creek bridge and there is every reason to believe that it will be a day of rejoicing for all concerned.

The roadway on the Esopus side of the bridge will not be completed in time to be used by traffic on the day the bridge is officially opened and all traffic will not be completed until next spring, however the grading will probably be finished by the first of November but not in time for the bridge opening celebration. Captain Van Wagoner has a force of men working to complete the work as soon as possible.

Our Growing Population. The following births have been reported to the board of health: Mr. and Mrs. James Brown of 34 West Street, a son, Warren Harding.

Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Bonworth, 32 West Street, a daughter, Florence.

Mr. and Mrs. John McGowan, 100 West Street, a son, John McGowan.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Woodard, 100 West Street, a son, Charles C. Woodard.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Rouse, 100 West Street, a daughter.

CITY HOSPITAL NURSES GRADUATE

Five Young Ladies Principals At Interesting Exercises At K. of C. Home—Dr. Dawes Gives Important Advice.

The graduation exercises of the Nurses' Training School of the Kingston City Hospital, which were held in the Knights of Columbus Hall Friday evening, were attended by the many friends of the nurses and were especially genial and attractive in this equally attractive auditorium. Many large baskets of chrysanthemums and rich autumn leaves decorated the hall, while the front of the platform was made particularly pretty with a bank of ferns and bouquets of chrysanthemums, gifts to the graduates. A handsome appointed table was presided over by Mrs. James A. Beitz and Mrs. John D. Schoonmaker who dispensed coffee as other delicious refreshments were served at the close of the exercises, which were opened with music by Balfe orchestra. During the playing of the opening selection, the members of the hospital staff and the board of managers, the superintendent of the hospital and assistant and graduates marched to the platform and took their seats thereon.

The graduates were: Lucy Clark, Jennie Frost, Anna A. Lynch, Marguerite Walsh, Ruth B. Haynes.

Following the offering of prayer by the Rev. Wilbur F. Stowe, Miss Edna C. Smith, superintendent of the hospital, gave the following enlightening report showing the excellent accomplishment of "The Nurses' Work in the Training School," which was heartily applauded:

The training school of the Kingston City Hospital has shown a very steady, healthy growth since its beginning in 1894. But like a child who develops year by year, there is a time in its growth when it suddenly takes a tremendous upward shoot, astonishing its parents and friends.

The past year has been such a one for the training school. Like the sudden lengthening out of a growing boy, the school has shot upward in its scope, offering to young students opportunities it has never before been able to present.

To begin with, we have better accommodations for our pupil nurses, the hospital having purchased last November the property 335 Broadway, opposite the institution, as additional quarters for the students.

This building, furnished by gifts from interested friends, has accommodations for nine nurses, while the original Nurses Home adjoining the hospital, which Mrs. Mary Coykendall built for us in 1907 has rooms for 11.

The work of the superintendent became so arduous last year that it was necessary to appoint an active head of the training school whose special function it should be to direct and train the pupil nurses, relieving the general superintendent of this important work.

Miss Lottie Kelder was appointed to this position about a year ago under the title "Director of Nurses." An office has been fitted up for her on the main corridor of the administration building, and here are kept records of the school, programs of doctors' lectures, and standing of the pupils in conformance with the Regulations of the State of New York.

The establishment of an obstetrical unit on the fourth floor of our hospital through the generosity of Martin Cantline of Saugerties, made a splendid change in the course of the school. The students no longer have to go to New York to Bellevue Hospital for their obstetrical training.

This now gives in our own hospital, and has fully come up to the requirements of the regulations, no less than 100 children having been born there during the past year. Our nurses still go to New York for a two months special training in the care of children. This makes a pleasant break in the course and is not so long as to become tiresome.

The subject of dietetics is now taken up in the high school, where we are fortunate in having so capable a teacher as Miss Davis to instruct our nurses. The pupil nurses from the Benedictine Hospital and our pupils take this course together, which makes for a friendly later course between the two institutions.

Another innovation in our course is found in the recent purchase of a life-size mannikin by use of which the pupils receive their instruction in making a bed with the patient in it, also the various positions for treatment and the proper way of bathing and feeding a patient.

A small training school such as ours has decided advantages over a large hospital. There is individual rather than class training. A pupil nurse is not kept for months at a time on a certain line of work without change. She has a varied experience in both medical and surgical work with unusual opportunities at obstetrical service.

She has a varied operating room service, and is given a turn at being a surgeon's assistant, which is invaluable to her after graduation.

Besides training in the practical work of nursing the students have lectures from physicians, surgeons, and specialists, and receive instruction in the keeping of charts, writing of orders, and administrative work.

Another course in our training school is in charge of the wards. This is an experience never obtained in the big hospitals where the wards are crowded and the work is done by a few nurses.

Our graduates are now in the hospital, and are given a turn at being a surgeon's assistant, which is invaluable to her after graduation.

Besides training in the practical work of nursing the students have lectures from physicians, surgeons, and specialists, and receive instruction in the keeping of charts, writing of orders, and administrative work.

Another course in our training school is in charge of the wards. This is an experience never obtained in the big hospitals where the wards are crowded and the work is done by a few nurses.

Our graduates are now in the hospital, and are given a turn at being a surgeon's assistant, which is invaluable to her after graduation.

NEW DWELLINGS BEING ERECTED

So far this season there have been about forty new dwellings erected or in the course of construction in Kingston. Recently The Freeman printed a list of those who were having new houses erected. The following new dwellings are in addition to that list, and have either been completed or are under construction:

Shattuck Realty Company a house on Franklin street.

William Auchmoody, a house on Furnace street.

Charles Deen, a house on Smith avenue.

S. Kimbark, a house on Joy's Lane.

Howard Winnie, a house on Hurley avenue.

Fred Roosa, a house on Albany avenue.

PROTESTS AGAINST AMENDMENT ONE

To the Editor of The Freeman: My attention has been called to the injurious effect which Constitutional Amendment No. 1, to be voted upon at next election, will have upon the charitable institutions of the state having under their care the sick, insane, tuberculous, and feeble minded, together with Boards of Public Health and Organizations having the care and protection of poor and dependent children.

Amendment No. 1 ordains that any honorably discharged soldier of the Civil or late war, resident of this state at time of enlistment, shall have preference and promotion in the Civil Service of the state.

That is to say, that a man who happened to have been called out under the draft and never got beyond the training camp, and who, by dint of "cranking" for a civil service examination squeezed through with a rating of 70.1, shall have an absolute preference over a person who may have made the work in question the study of a lifetime and who by long experience has become highly proficient and is able to pass the examination with a rating of 99.99. Further, the ex-service men will have an absolute preference over all women!

This is not only unjust to the wards of the state but it is making a "scrap of paper" of the merit system upon which the Civil Service of the state is founded. It is illogical in making military service, however slight, a super-qualification for a very different kind of service in civil life.

We have all of us, of course, a deep regard and sympathy for a veteran who has risked his life for his country, none more so than myself, but I don't think we should allow our sympathy to lead us into an assault upon the present high standard of our Civil Service. To lower that standard is to impair the efficiency of state management.

The Willard Straight Post No. 842 of the American Legion has put itself squarely on record against this amendment by saying:

"Military service is no badge of special qualification for public service in civil life."

"Service in war is not to be rewarded by lowering the standards of our public service."

"We can see in this proposal only a dishonest attempt to obtain something for nothing, to create, at the expense of the public, a permanent class of military office holders, who by advocacy of this amendment, confess inability to compete upon equal terms. Such an attempt, in our opinion, is un-American and should be vigorously opposed by all members of the legion and absolutely contrary to the professed principles and ideals of the legion."

I, therefore, as president of the Ulster County Committee for Dependent Children, State Carities Aid Association ask all voters of Ulster county at the coming election, November 8th, to vote No upon Amendment One and to commit this injurious legislation to the grave of selfish ambitions.

FRANCIS J. HIGGINSON, President.

EVELYN NEMBIT BUTTER.

She Had Known Her Money Wasn't Worth Her Life.

By Telegram to The Freeman. New York, Oct. 23.—Evelyn Nesbit, former wife of Harry H. Thaw, who yesterday attempted suicide by taking morphine, was reported to be out of danger today. A report from her fifty-second street apartment, where the Evelyn Nesbit specialty shop, said she was getting along well but had not spoken of her act.

Unknown to her, $16,000 had been realized from the sale of Mrs. Nesbit's objects d'art within the last two days, enough to tide her over the financial difficulties which caused her to attempt to take her life. It was learned.

She Had Poisoning.

Mrs. R. F. Drilling of Market street, Saugerties, is suffering from severe case of food poisoning in her left hand. The poisoning was contracted while cleaning some war relics Dr. Drilling brought from overseas.

Obituary Notice. William Leonard, an experienced graduate of Spencer's Business School, has obtained a permanent position as stenographer and bookkeeper with Jacob Furst, 114 Albee street, this city.

SHORT SESSION OF SCHOOL BOARD

Changes At School No. 7 Reported Impracticable During Present Term—Non-Sectarian Bible Study Proposed—Superintendent Michael Granted Leave Of Absence.

The Board of Education held a short session Friday evening at the high school, those present being Trustees Gill, Herbert, Kearney, Schaeffer, Van Wagoner, President Flemming and Superintendent Michael. Vouchers audited for bills were reported by Trustee Van Wagoner of the finance committee in $6,518.31 which report was adopted and warrants ordered issued; also the October pay-roll of the teachers in $19,049.60. A resolution was adopted that the finance committee audit the teachers' pay roll for November and that the president and clerk issue warrants for payment of same.

The following report was submitted by the teachers' committee to whom had been referred a complaint made by the Parent-Teachers Association at a previous meeting that certain rooms at School 7 were overcrowded.

Gentlemen: Your teachers' committee presents the following report: Representatives of the Parent-Teacher Association of School No. 7 appeared before this board at the last regular meeting and entered complaint relative to the conditions at School No. 7 at which time it was stated that certain rooms were overcrowded. The matter was referred to the teachers' committee.

Your committee visited School No. 7 in company with Superintendent Michael. Room No. 7, grades 5-A and 5-B, contained 55 pupils. The largest number in any of the rooms visited except room 7, as above stated, was 45. The work was conducted in a commendable manner and we were impressed with the fact that the progress of the work at No. 7 was in keeping with the high standard maintained at this school for a period of years past. Our information is that the number of pupils in room 7 is not unusual and provision is, as a rule, made by the principal to relieve this condition at the commencement of the subsequent term.

To follow the suggestion as made by the Parent-Teacher Association and place an additional teacher in No. 7 at this time would necessitate a rearrangement of the grades in the midst of the term and be a decided injury to the work rather than a benefit.

It is a fact that the percentage of pupils to a room is higher in No. 7 than in the other grade schools of the city. With the exception of room 7, however, the number in each room is not sufficiently large to interfere with the orderly and successful progress of the work. To so apportion the pupils to the grade schools as to equalize the number between the grade work is next to impossible. There must therefore exist a difference in the percentage of pupils to a room in a comparison of the various schools.

Your committee recommend that no change be made at No. 7 during the present term, that after the commencement of the next term further inquiry be made as to the conditions at No. 7 and such action be taken at that time as in the light of the facts then appearing may be justified.

Superintendent Michael and Principal Lewis brought to the attention of the board a course of Bible study and Bible historical course that had been approved by the state superintendent of education and recommended by him. It had been adopted at Binghamton and Schenectady, and each student passing the examination after taking the course was entitled to one credit. It was non-sectarian, not being detrimental to Catholic, Jew or Protestant, being largely historical. President Flemming referred the matter to the teachers' committee.

A request was read from the teachers of the high school for the installation of a mimeograph. Principal Lewis was heard and said one was needed not only for use for students in the commercial course but for making copies of study or question sheets and other papers, and would save considerable time for students and in class work. It was stated that the old one purchased about twelve years ago was completely worn out, and a new one could be bought for $10. Trustee Gill moved that the matter be referred to the supply committee with power, which was carried.

The matter of increasing the salary of the acting clerk of the principal of the high school was brought up. It was stated by Principal Lewis that since the resignation of the former clerk, who had married, superintendency had been given trials but did not give entire satisfaction. Miss Ruth Kering had been there a month and her work was very satisfactory, but as the hours were long and there was considerable work she did not consider the salary commensurate with the work of the position. The salary was $64 a month for ten months in the year and Principal Lewis stated that she would be retained at an increase of $10 a month and that she was willing to take the civil service examination which is demanded. The matter was referred to the finance committee.

Trustee Van Wagoner stated that he understood that Superintendent Michael desired to go to California later in the year and asked him if the report was true and when he wanted to start. Superintendent Michael said he would like to leave the day before Thanksgiving and on the 24th.

WINE CAUSED CHARLES TO FAIL

By Telegram to The Freeman. Berlin, Oct. 23.—Former Charles' taste for champagne was chiefly responsible for the failure of his royalist coup, according to news from Budapest today. It is now believed certain in many circles in Hungary that the monarchist adventurer would have succeeded in taking Budapest by surprise if Charles and his generals had acted swiftly. But upon arriving at Odensburg, Charles wasted 24 hours in celebrating his "triumphant return" with an elaborate champagne feast.

Former Empress Zita is said to have remonstrated against the delay, pointed out to her husband that every minute counted. The ex-monarch was so sure of success, however, that he moted with the utmost leisure.

It now develops that the battle on Sunday was decided against Charles' monarchist forces by volunteer high school students. The report that Charles attempted suicide originated from his violent weeping spell in which he sobbed out his determination to "end all." However he never made any actual attempt to take his own life.

ENGAGED A YEAR AHEAD

It is very good evidence that any man is indeed popular with the public when it is necessary to engage him for a lecture one whole year in advance. And yet that is exactly what happened with regard to Dr. William Phelps of Yale University, who is to lecture at the chapel of the First Reformed Dutch Church on the evening of November 5. Unable to secure Dr. Phelps last year, because of his many advance dates the Atharhaston and Monday Clubs who are bringing Dr. Phelps to Kingston, then promptly made arrangements with him to come to Kingston this year on the above mentioned date.

Charming as the lecturer is personally, able as he is as a lecturer—and those who heard him when here two years ago fully appreciate these qualities—Dr. Phelps possesses another qualification which entitles him to public regard. When he puts a stamp of commendation on a book, a drama, an article of any literary character, one knows without further question that it is more than worth their time and consideration to read the same.

Two years ago the Atharhaston and Monday Clubs brought Dr. Phelps here at a joint meeting, charging no admission. This year it is believed the public will be sufficiently appreciative, quite aside from the worthiness of the lecturer, to buy tickets to hear Dr. Phelps speak on "A Literary Pilgrimage Through England."

AT THE THEATRES. "Four Horsemen"—(sparty Crowds at Opera House.

The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse showing at the Opera House tonight for its last appearance in Kingston, is proclaimed the masterpiece of anything heretofore made or attempted in the motion picture history. The crowds who have attended the showings here have been unanimous in their praise and the applause at every performance has been tremendous.

Jack Pickford in George Ade's company, "Just Out of College," is showing at Keeney's tonight and this rollicking comedy of "Pickles" is a guaranteed cure for any grouchy that ever lived. A Mornand special and Pathe news are also featured at Monday and Tuesday. Come see Talma made in "Dangerous Business."

The "Rage of Paris" starring the new screen beauty, Miss Bullont is at the Auditorium tonight. This is an amazing story of an American boy who for reasons of her own becomes the most talked about woman in Paris. The entire comedy "Adiffa Love" with Harry Sweet is the comedy attraction. Monday Eugene O'Brien in "The Last Door," a mystery story.

Sid Chaplin, brother of the famous Charlie, will appear at the Opera House Monday and Tuesday in "King, Queen, Joker," the comical story of a barber who traveled over three continents to find new fun for American comedy lovers. This is a fast and laugh and contains scenes taken in all parts of the world.

All next week one of the world's great films, "War Iren East," will be shown afternoons and nights at the W. Griffith at the Colonial Theatre. It tells a simple, old fashioned story of plain people. Tonight Mrs. Park with her clever antics will be seen in "The Love Light."

Western Style Theater. By Telegram to The Freeman. New York, Oct. 23.—Ten thousand street railway employees today threatened to strike unless discharged workers were reinstated by the company.

Look in Water Main. FRIDAY evening a leak in the water main was discovered in the center of Gill street, near Catherine street, and reported to the water board.

Two About the Second Week in January. On motion of Trustee Van Wagoner, a leave of absence was granted Superintendent Michael from November 27 to January 15.

On motion of Trustee Van Wagoner the members of the board of education then adjourned.

FOCH SWIFTLY SEES WASHINGTON

By Telegram to The Freeman. Washington, Oct. 23.—Moving with the rapidity that characterized his tactical thrusts along the western front, Marshal Ferdinand Foch became acquainted with official Washington today to the accompaniment of the cheers and plaudits from hundreds of admirers wherever he went.

From the White House to the capitol and to the various departments, the famous Allied generalissimo was whirled in rapid succession everywhere greeted by admiring throngs.

Supervisor Charles A. Schermerhorn of the First ward has sold the old Hasbrouck house on Green street, near its junction with Crown street, to Mrs. Lillian G. McLaughlin and F. Kirby McLaughlin, her husband, of Albany.

The Hasbrouck house is one of the landmarks of Kingston and is probably the best preserved of the old stone houses which for many years were famous throughout the country. George Washington was entertained there when he visited Kingston after the close of the War of the Revolution and in its day the old house has contained more distinguished guests than any other house in the city.

For the purpose of preserving the historic place, Mr. and Mrs. McLaughlin will make extensive improvements to the property and upon their completion next year they will occupy part of the house as their home. Supervisor Schermerhorn bought the property a number of years ago and since then has always consistently refused all offers to sell it for business purposes. The quaint beauty and historic interest of the place, he believed, should be preserved and in the purchase of the place Mr. and Mrs. McLaughlin his hope as well as the hopes of scores of Kingstonians, will find fulfillment.

SCHERMERHORN SELLS LANDMARK

Supervisor Charles A. Schermerhorn of the First ward has sold the old Hasbrouck house on Green street, near its junction with Crown street, to Mrs. Lillian G. McLaughlin and F. Kirby McLaughlin, her husband, of Albany.

The Hasbrouck house is one of the landmarks of Kingston and is probably the best preserved of the old stone houses which for many years were famous throughout the country. George Washington was entertained there when he visited Kingston after the close of the War of the Revolution and in its day the old house has contained more distinguished guests than any other house in the city.

For the purpose of preserving the historic place, Mr. and Mrs. McLaughlin will make extensive improvements to the property and upon their completion next year they will occupy part of the house as their home. Supervisor Schermerhorn bought the property a number of years ago and since then has always consistently refused all offers to sell it for business purposes. The quaint beauty and historic interest of the place, he believed, should be preserved and in the purchase of the place Mr. and Mrs. McLaughlin his hope as well as the hopes of scores of Kingstonians, will find fulfillment.

BREWERS MAY SELL OLD BEER

By Telegram to The Freeman. Washington, Oct. 23.—Brewers will be permitted to sell beer, which they now have on hand, for medicinal purposes, it was announced officially by the treasury department today.

Dry advocates have protested against the sale of beer which has accumulated in the breweries and have urged that only such beer as has been manufactured since the issuance of the beer-for-medicine regulations, should be permitted to be sold. If such a ruling were issued, it would delay the sale of medicinal beer for some weeks.

Secretary Mellon on Monday is expected to issue a formal ruling permitting the sale of beer now held by brewers.

Internal Revenue Commissioner Blair conferred with Solicitor Mapes today on the matter of the sale of accumulated beer and was informed that the sale of such products was entirely legal.

PUBLIC MARKET ENDS FOR SEASON

The public market on Field Court closed today for the season. The market was opened at the request of the producers several months ago, and has proven a decided success, and undoubtedly will be continued next year. The market had made it possible for the producers to come in closer touch with the purchasing public. The market had been under the direction of William Moyle, city sealer of weights and measures.

Mrs. Phillips Vindicated. By Telegram to The Freeman. New York, Oct. 23.—Complaints that $40,000 of the funds of the Carry-On Association, a national organization for the relief of wounded war veterans, were unaccounted for, were found to be without foundation after an investigation conducted at the request of Mrs. Wendell Phillips, its national chairman. District Attorney Swanwick announced Thursday the complaints were made by a woman attorney who said she was acting for several former service men.

Don Lane Hearing. A hearing will be held at the court house November 2 by H. H. Wintz, of the public service commission, on the application of Frederick J. Spinnaker to run a bus line between Kingston and Port Jervis.

Has New House Chosen. By Telegram to The Freeman. Washington, Oct. 23.—Internal Revenue Commissioner Blair today announced the appointment of Ralph A. Day as prohibition director for the state of New York.

Thayer's Piano Tonight. The Thayer & Co. will hold a concert this evening at 6 o'clock in the public orchestra will furnish the music.

"CHECK ARTIST" HERE FRIDAY

And Worked Old Check Game on Some of Local Coal Dealers—Ordered Half a Ton of Coal, and Proffered Check in Payment.

Every so often a bad check artist drops into Kingston, and after "working" some of the local merchants, leaves for other fields of endeavor. Friday afternoon a stranger dropped into Kingston, and proceeded to call on some of the local coal dealers, and as a result he cleaned up enough to pay him for his day's work.

His method was so simple that he had no trouble. He would call at a coal office and order half a ton of coal to be delivered. In payment he would offer a check of about $17.80, signed by "John Cook" and endorsed by "Thomas Millard" and receive back about $10 in change. It is known that he worked several of the local coal dealers.

When the police learned of the check passer and got busy on the case it was only to find that he had worked rapidly, and had evidently left town just as rapidly.

Just how much the stranger cleared as a result of his afternoon's visits is not known, but it is thought that it was in the neighborhood of $50.

MGR. DUNN MADE TITULAR BISHOP

Friday morning, at St. Patrick's Cathedral, New York city, Mgr. John Joseph Dunn, chancellor of the Catholic archdiocese of New York for the last seven years and the director of the New York branch of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith for the last seventeen years, was consecrated titular bishop of Camuliana and auxiliary bishop of New York. It was also the seventh anniversary of the consecration of Archbishop Patrick J. Hayes, who served as consecrator. The sermon was preached by Mgr. Michael J. Lavelle, rector of the cathedral. The bull, the personal statement of Pope Benedict XV that he had on August 19, appointed Mgr. Dunn as titular bishop of Camuliana and auxiliary to Archbishop Hayes, was read by the Rev. John J. Hickory of St. Mary's Church in this city, diocesan notary. Two archbishops, twenty bishops, sixty monsignors, and a company of sixty which completely filled the cathedral witnessed the solemn services. Two hundred policemen were on duty taking the usual precautions against disturbances at such an occurrence. The services were followed by a luncheon at the Commodore Hotel.

NEW YORK PRODUCE MARKET. By Telegram to The Freeman. New York, Oct. 23.—Trading in general on the wholesale markets was very quiet today, the department of farms and markets reported. Supplies were liberal and prices in most cases unchanged with the markets dull.

Potato prices were $1.75@1.84 for 150 pounds bulk. This represented a drop of from 25 cents to 50 cents during the week.

Wheat—Steady. Dec., 103; Mar., 113 1/2 @ 113 3/4; spot No. 2 red winter, 115 1/2 c. i. f. track New York and 117 1/2 c. o. b.

Corn—Firm. No. 2 yellow, new, 68. No. 2 white, 69. No. 2 mixed, 67 1/2 c. i. f. New York 10 days shipment, all rail.

Oats—Firm. Fancy white 55 1/2, ordinary clipped, 47 1/2 @ 50 1/2; No. 1 nominal, No. 2, 46; No. 3, 47 1/2; No. 4, 46 @ 47 1/2.

Rye—Steady. No. 2 western, 55 1/2 c. i. f. and 39 c. o. b. New York. Barley—Steady. Malted, 62 @ 65 c. i. f.; feeding, 50 @ 57 c. i. f. Buttable.

Hay—Quiet. No. 1, 140; No. 2, 120 @ 125; clover mixed, 100 @ 110. Straw—Steady. No. 1 straight, 75 @ 115.

Flour—Dull, nominal. Spring patents, 74 @ 75; winter patents, 65 @ 70; clear, 47 1/2 @ 57 1/2; winter patents, 74 @ 75; clear, 47 1/2 @ 57 1/2.

Potatoes—Firm. White, nearby, 25 @ 35; Red, 20 @ 30; Yellow, 15 @ 25; Adirondack, 10 @ 20; Dutch, 10 @ 20; Jersey, 10 @ 20; Maine, 10 @ 20; New York, 10 @ 20; Pennsylvania, 10 @ 20; Virginia, 10 @ 20; North Carolina, 10 @ 20; South Carolina, 10 @ 20; Georgia, 10 @ 20; Florida, 10 @ 20; Alabama, 10 @ 20; Mississippi, 10 @ 20; Louisiana, 10 @ 20; Texas, 10 @ 20; Arkansas, 10 @ 20; Missouri, 10 @ 20; Illinois, 10 @ 20; Indiana, 10 @ 20; Ohio, 10 @ 20; Michigan, 10 @ 20; Wisconsin, 10 @ 20; Minnesota, 10 @ 20; Iowa, 10 @ 20; Kansas, 10 @ 20; Nebraska, 10 @ 20; Oklahoma, 10 @ 20; Texas, 10 @ 20; Arkansas, 10 @ 20; Missouri, 10 @ 20; Illinois, 10 @ 20; Indiana, 10 @ 20; Ohio, 10 @ 20; Michigan, 10 @ 20; Wisconsin, 10 @ 20; Minnesota, 10 @ 20; Iowa,

SCHOONMAKER IS ON REGISTRY LIST

On the application of Raymond Schoonmaker, the inspectors of election of the second election district of the town of Marlborough were required by an order of County Judge Joseph M. Fowler to convene at noon today for the purpose of adding Mr. Schoonmaker's name to the registry of voters of that district for 1921.

In his application to the court, Mr. Schoonmaker set forth that he has resided in that election district for upward of five years, that the district is not within the limits of an incorporated village of 5,000 or more inhabitants and under the election law the inspectors of election are required to place on the registry the names of all persons who voted at the last election except voters who are proved not to be legal voters since such election, that he voted at the 1920 election and is still a legal voter of the district but that his name was omitted from the registry list for 1921.

An order to show cause why the inspectors should not convene at noon today and add Mr. Schoonmaker's name to the registry was granted by Judge Fowler and was returnable before him on Friday afternoon at five o'clock, at which time Judge James Jenkins, chairman of the Democratic county committee, appeared and said there was no objection to the granting of the order asked for by Mr. Schoonmaker.

The proceeding was brought against Edward Wynn, Albert Albersson, Nathan McCord and Alfred Short, all of Marlborough, comprising the inspectors of election of the district. Copies of the order to show cause also were served on John A. Nock of Kingston and George B. Trumbour as members of the county board of elections; Philip Elting chairman of the Republican county committee; Judge James Jenkins, chairman of the Democratic county committee, and the Rev. P. N. Chase, chairman of the Prohibition county committee. County Attorney John W. Eckert made the application on behalf of Mr. Schoonmaker.

LOCAL DEATH RECORD.

Recent Deaths and Funerals of Persons in This Vicinity.

May E. Patrick, daughter of the late John and Cecelia Sullivan, formerly of Kingston, died suddenly at the residence of her brother, William J. Sullivan, 1279 Morris avenue, New York city, Thursday, October 27.

Joseph Francis Cummings, son of Mary Mallis and the late Michael Cummings, died at the home of his mother in Port Jervis, this morning. He is survived by one brother, Michael, and three sisters, Mrs. Joseph McGowan, Mollie and Helen. The funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Eva Spray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spray of 137 Bruyn avenue, died in the New York Hospital this morning, following an operation. The body was removed to the funeral parlors of Leo V. Grogan at 677 Eighth avenue, New York, and will later be brought to this city. Miss Spray was one of Kingston's popular young ladies and her death will be received as a distinct shock to her many friends.

Michael Vlasov, died at his home, No. 59 Third avenue, Friday evening. He is survived by his wife, one son, Arthur, of Peekskill; three daughters, Christina of Jersey City, Augustina of Peekskill and Mrs. Henry Mantle of this city, also one step-son, Edward Kraus, of this city. The funeral will be held from the late residence on Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Interment in Montrose cemetery.

Thomas P. Cleary, of Cleary Brothers, transportation agents, husband of Mary Cleary Ogden, and a brother of Congressman William E. Cleary, died at his home, 240 Seventy-third street, Brooklyn, Thursday, October 27th. He was a former resident of Ulster county. The funeral will be held from his residence, Monday, October 31, at 9:30 o'clock, thence to the Church of Our Lady of Angels, Fourth avenue and Seventy-fourth street, Brooklyn, where a solemn Mass of requiem will be celebrated for the repose of his soul. Interment in St. John's cemetery, Brooklyn.

ABOUT THE POLICE.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Kraus of No. 2 Walnut street are receiving congratulations over the arrival of a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Cronin, of Louisville, Ky., are receiving congratulations over the arrival of a son, born at Benedictine Hospital Thursday.

THE JOHNNIES.

News of Interest to Members of Professional Societies.

Members of Van Dusen Council, No. 41, Daughters of America who intend to go on visit the council at Highland, N. Y. on Wednesday evening, November 2, will meet at the Mechanics Hall, 14 Henry street, on Wednesday at 6:30 p. m.

The Mass For Sale.

Eighty tickets will sell at auction at the Kosses garage, Westbrock and Fiskell avenues, at 10:30 Tuesday morning next a Mass touring car.

NEWS.

FRAT—At The New York Hospital, New York city, October 28, 1921, Eva, beloved daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spray, 37 Bruyn avenue.

Body now at the New York funeral parlors of Leo V. Grogan, 677 Eighth avenue, will be brought to the city late Saturday evening and will be taken to the home of her parents where Mass of Requiem will be celebrated later.

BIG BARN BURNS ON ADDIS FARM

A large barn on the Jackson Addis farm near Butterville was burned to the ground with its contents about eight o'clock Friday evening. A telephone message to the New Falls fire department just after the fire was discovered was answered by several automobile loads of members of the department and their apparatus, the run from New Falls to Butterville being made in record time. The fire had gained such headway, however, that it was impossible to save either the building or contents. The barn was filled with hay, straw and other crops of the past season, together with farm machinery. There was no loss of live stock. The insurance does not cover the loss. The fire illuminated the sky brilliantly for half an hour and the reflection could be seen for many miles.

ODDS AND ENDS.

There were no cases in police court today.

Harry Place, the jazz trombonist, has been engaged to play with Balfe's orchestra at Pythian Hall, now the Clermont, Wall and John streets, tonight.

A flag pole has been erected on the grounds of the Old Senate House property on Fair street by William G. Johnston & Son, to replace the one blown down some time ago.

Mrs. Daniel W. Hitchcock, a sister of the late Andrew Brink, of Saugerties, died in Jersey City, Wednesday, October 26, in the 84th year of her age. The body was brought to Saugerties for burial this afternoon.

Circle No. 3, of the First Presbyterian Church, will hold a roast chicken dinner in the church parlors on Wednesday, November 2, from 5 to 8 o'clock. The following menu will be served: Roast chicken, dressing, mashed potatoes, creamed onions, cabbage, salad, celery, jelly and coffee. Besides the dinner fancy work articles will be on sale.

Chicago Grain Market.

Chicago, Oct. 29.—There was a light trade in wheat throughout the short session today. Prices firmed up on some buying that developed after the opening, but sagged again near the close and finished with slight losses. Corn and oats followed the trend in wheat. Wheat closed 1/2 lower; corn 1/4 lower, and oats 1/4 lower.

Closing Prices.

Wheat—Dec. 108 3/4 @ 1/4; May 112 1/2 @ 1/4.
Corn—Dec. 48 1/4 @ 1/4; May 53 1/4 @ 1/4.
Oats—Dec. 33 1/4 @ 1/4; May 36 1/4 @ 1/4.

Wheeler Divorce Suit Tried.

The action for divorce brought by Eva May Wheeler against Sylvester Wheeler was tried before Judge Hasbrouck at supreme court chambers this morning. The parties were married at Gardiner in 1912 and have one child. Testimony was given to show that the defendant had been living with another woman who was known as his wife at Waterbury, Conn., where during the war he was employed as a guard at the plant of the Scoville Manufacturing Company. Decision was reserved. Brinlier, Canfield & Brinlier appeared for the plaintiff; there was no appearance on the part of the defendant.

CONNELLY.

Connolly, Oct. 29.—The following delegation from the M. E. Church of this place spent a most enjoyable evening, Friday, October 21, at the Epworth League Halloween social of the Clinton Avenue M. E. Church: Mrs. Josie Hotelling, Miss Helen Robbins, Miss Hattie Olson, Miss Anna Malina, Miss Mildred Olson and friend, Mr. and Mrs. James Wenzel, Clarence Hyde, Miss Anna Cole, Miss Katherine Cole, Miss Julia Meyers, Miss Emma Meyers, Miss Katherine Dunn.

Dr. Smith Returns.

Dr. Reuben E. Smith, the well known veterinarian who has been connected with a large hospital for dogs and other animals in New York city for some months while pursuing special courses of study in that city, has returned to Kingston and has opened an office in the Hotel Ulster building, at No. 5 Railroad avenue. Dr. Smith will make his home at the Hotel Ulster. His many friends throughout Ulster county will be glad to know of his return to Kingston.

Last Night's Flight.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
At New York—Sailor Friedman won a technical knockout over Ernie Rice, English lightweight champion, in the seventh round of a scheduled 16-round bout.
Joe Gorman and Sammy Seiger fought a draw in eight rounds.
At Buffalo—Captain Bob Roper, Chicago, knocked out Frank Moran, Pittsburgh, in the sixth round of a scheduled 12-round bout.

Halloween Hangover Ball.

There will be a Halloween hangover ball by the Ladies' Social Club at Massena Hotel Monday evening, October 31. Music by Bull's four piece orchestra. A good time is assured. Prizes will be given to the best and most comic dressed men and women. Grand march at 10 o'clock.

Start Working Monday.

Superintendent Spencer, who has charge of the construction of the Rondout creek bridge, stated at noon today when work for the week was completed, that it was expected to start the widening of the two big cables from which the bridge is suspended on Monday.

Canton, Canton, Canton, Canton, Why pay more than at Ten Brook's Drug Store.—Advertisement.

The R-G-R Store is Just Humming With Activity

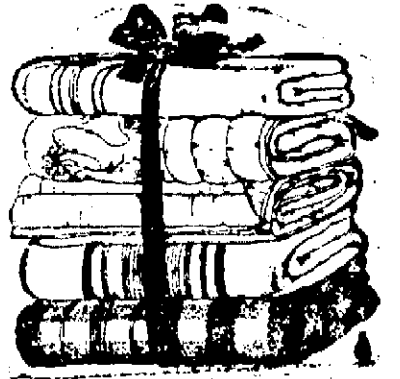

SEE THIS OFFER FOR TUESDAY

MARSHALL FIELD'S $7.00 BLANKET

It's a splendid bed covering, two-thirds wool, neatly finished. Good weight and excellent quality, just the kind you would expect a concern of that standing to put its name on. No Kingston home would ever be ashamed of its quality. We wanted something good at a low price and here we have it. Full size. Excellent quality.

ON SALE BEGINNING TUESDAY

$4.85

What a Wonderful Doll Display

COME TO THE BIG DOLL SHOW HERE

Last year we prepared a doll show which was at once the wonder and the delight of Kingston. On Saturday we open the 1921 Doll Show which is a still greater display, one that seems to be even more attractive, not only to the little girls but even to adults of both sexes.

Our supply of Dolls of every kind, sort and description is the greatest by far that ever came to Kingston.

WE WANT YOU TO SEE THE DOLLS

Count Them—Estimate the number of dolls, if you are correct or nearly correct you will win a prize. Ask us about it when you come in here. By all means bring the children here to see the dolls.

A Wonderful Picture Sale

AT LESS THAN WHOLESALE

Special purchase of manufacturer's samples enables us to offer one of the most sensational picture values ever offered here. Genuine Oil Paintings in extra heavy ornamental gilt and gold burnished frame of 3 to 4 inch mouldings, outside sizes 27 by 39 and 20 by 36. Also Shadow Box Pictures with outside glass protection and dining room pictures in three combinations of three pictures in one. Also single fruit subjects in 3-inch dark wood frames. Sold elsewhere for $7.50.

SEE WINDOW DISPLAY NOW

Only a Limited Number on hand.

No C. O. D., Phone or Mail Orders Filled at These Prices.

EXTRA SPECIAL AT

$1.25 EACH

"LAST CALL" TO HALLOWEEN DANCE.

This is practically the "last call" to the Halloween dance to be given at the armory Monday evening, and again The Freeman has been asked to state that there will be no special Halloween stunts, nor will a Halloween costume or full evening dress costume be necessary to attend the dance, which will be informal, a delightful social evening being the chief objective. There will be the best of music. Additional patrons are Mr. and Mrs. Ward B. Everett, Mr. and Mrs. P. Overbaugh of Saugerties and Miss Lillian M. Stuart of this city. Tickets may still be secured at Bargain's, the Connolly drug store or at the armory Monday evening.

Saugerties Properties Selling.
Bernardo Rinaldi of Glasco, has purchased from Daniel Dorrian, the former Snyder garage property fronting on South Partition and Allen streets, Saugerties. Mr. Rinaldi contemplates the erection of a modern brick building on the property next year.

Mrs. Emilie Lee has sold her property, the "Barclay Heights Villa" on Barclay Heights, Saugerties, to V. L. Crowell of Brooklyn.

Society Notes.

The members of the Sorosis are reminded of the Halloween social at the home of Mrs. Grover Lasher on Lucas avenue on Monday evening at 8 o'clock. The committee in charge is arranging a unique and delightful program and it is hoped that all club members may be present.

Removal of Reliquary.

Theodore Roosevelt, the great American, was the subject of an interesting sermon by Dr. B. M. Kaplan at Temple Emanuel Friday evening. Dr. Kaplan told some incidents and anecdotes in Roosevelt's life which threw a new light on the noble character of this truly great man.

Hot Prices Fall.

Pittsburgh, Oct. 29.—Hot prices were tumbling today with the heavy fall rains coming in. Medium weights sold at $8.50 to $8.55 and heavier at $9.05 to $9.15. With one exception, this is the lowest price since before the war.

MOON TOURING CAR.

Kosses garage, corner Fiskell and Westbrock avenues, Tuesday, November 1, at 10:30 a. m.

Blue Mountain on Saturday when Emily Love became the wife of Bernard Schermerhorn.

The ceremony took place at one o'clock, the Rev. Nicholas Hess officiating. The bride was dressed in white satin, carrying a bouquet of white roses. Maybell Lowe, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid and Albert Lowe was best man. A reception followed. A number of guests were present. The couple received many beautiful gifts.

County Medical Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Medical and Allied Professions will be held at the court house on Tuesday evening next, November 1st, at 8:30 o'clock, and all members of the organization are urged to be present.

Arabs Like Hyena Stew.
Some Arabs are extremely fond of hyena stew, and this despite the fact that even a dog turns from hyena meat to disgust.

A pretty wedding took place in

Evelyn Nesbit

Evelyn Nesbit, former wife of Harry K. Thaw, attempted suicide in her apartment over her tea room in New York by taking a large dose of morphine, according to physicians. Attending physicians announced her condition as serious. Miss Nesbit, but a short time before her attempt, her own life was saved with a dispensed notice for non-payment of rent, and had been driven into desperate straits over her husband's make both ends meet.

Use FREEMAN advertising regularly and conservatively and results will surely follow.

Kingston Daily Freeman.

Published by Freeman Publishing Company, 25 Broadway, Kingston, N. Y.
 Entered as Second Class Matter at the Post Office at Kingston, N. Y.
 Published by Freeman Publishing Company, 25 Broadway, Kingston, N. Y.
 Accepted for mailing at special rate of postage provided for in Act of October 3, 1917, authorized on July 1, 1920.
 Postage paid at Kingston, N. Y.
 Second Class Matter at the Post Office at Kingston, N. Y.
 Published by Freeman Publishing Company, 25 Broadway, Kingston, N. Y.
 Accepted for mailing at special rate of postage provided for in Act of October 3, 1917, authorized on July 1, 1920.
 Postage paid at Kingston, N. Y.

Subscription Office:
 New York Telephone: Main Office: 555-5555.
 Kingston, N. Y., Oct. 29, 1921.

FREE PRESS UPHOLD.

When he brought a $10,000,000 libel suit against the Chicago Tribune in the name of the city of Chicago, because of criticisms of his administration, Mayor Thompson must have known that he had little chance of success. Free criticism of public officials or their administrations has been a popular institution of this country from the outset as well as one of its most important safeguards. Journalistic freedom has been and is sometimes abused, but, as Thomas Jefferson once wisely said, even that is "a part of the price we pay for our liberty, which can not be guarded but by the freedom of the press, nor that be limited without danger of losing it." Jefferson made this memorable statement in 1786. Fifty years later De Tocqueville, the visiting French writer, noted that no American had "as yet dared to propose any restriction on the liberty of the press." Now, 135 years later, the same may be said—unless we except Mayor Thompson's libel suit and its transparent aim.

That the Chicago Tribune's demand to the Thompson libel suit would be sustained by Judge Fisher of the Circuit Court could almost have been regarded as a foregone conclusion. Judge Fisher upholds not only the Tribune but a free press in general and the right of the people to be fully informed concerning their own affairs and interests. "The press," he says, "has become the eyes and ears of the world," and further: "It is the spokesman of the weak and the appeal of the suffering. It holds up for review the acts of our officials and of those men in high places who have it in their power to advance peace or endanger it. It is the force which unifies public sentiment. But for it the acts of public benefactors would go unnoticed, impostors would continue undiscovered, and public officials would be the rich reward of the unscrupulous demagogue." In this decision the Thompsons of every section are duly warned that they can never reverse popular sentiment in this connection, based as it is on the command of the constitution itself: "Congress shall make no law abridging the freedom of speech or of the press."

CRANE'S STATEMENT.

Plodging himself to give Kingston a clean, straightforward business administration if elected, Walter P. Crane's statement to the voters of the city in Thursday's Freeman left no doubt in the minds of any as to where he stands on important local issues.

There are few men who are as well acquainted with the needs of Kingston, and none who have the interests of the city more at heart than he. Mr. Crane has been a resident of Kingston all his life. He is a man who will carry out the promises he has made in his open letter to the voters of the city.

He believes, and has so stated, that the policy of good streets should be continued, and that the city parks and playgrounds should be maintained. Kingston in the past few years has become noted throughout the state as the city of fine streets.

Mr. Crane believes thoroughly in the policy of retrenchment in public expenditures where it can be done without detriment to the welfare of the city. He believes that the policy of pay as you go is one that is necessary, and that view will meet the approval of the taxpayer.

That Mr. Crane is fully equipped to carry out the policies he outlined in his open letter is an unquestioned fact. The experience he has had as mayor of Kingston will stand him in good stead, and will fit him to carry on the city's affairs in a manner that will meet public approval.

Mr. Crane's record as a public official is known. Electing him to the office of mayor will mean the election of an experienced man. No one doubts his ability to conduct the affairs of a growing city in a way that will not only reflect credit upon himself but upon the city that called him to lead its affairs.

In electing Mr. Crane Kingston's voters may be sure that a Republican common council as that the policies outlined by him may be carried out harmoniously. Kingston's growth under Republican administration has been marked, and it will be continued under Republican can administration. The entire Republican ticket should be elected at the November election.

Harry J. Lipkin, the Republican candidate for alderman of the Sixth ward, is a young man who is well acquainted with the needs of that ward, and should be elected by a handsome majority. During the world war he saw service overseas, and upon his discharge from service resumed his duties at the shoe store of Guilford Haskin on the Strand. In electing Mr. Lipkin alderman the voters of the Sixth ward will make no mistake, as he has shown the ability to make good in whatever position he has been placed.

George A. Leverich has been nominated by the Republicans of the Fifth ward to succeed himself as a member of the common council. Alderman Leverich is one of the successful business men of the Fifth ward, and has served the ward in an eminent manner while a member of the governing body of the city. There is probably no one in the Fifth ward who is better acquainted with the needs of the ward than Alderman Leverich. His record of service entitled him to another term, and he will be elected by a large majority.

Richard Williams, one of the leading twirlers of the Colonials, the semi-professional baseball champions of the Hudson River valley, is the Republican candidate for alderman in the Fourth ward. He is a young man who has been a resident of that ward for a number of years and is acquainted with its needs. Mr. Williams is employed at the Ulster & Delaware railroad shops. He is well known throughout the city, and should be elected by a big majority.

Burroughs Nature Club Notes

Copyright 1921, by ROBERTSON BENTLEY CO.

What do you want to know about Nature Subjects? Send any questions of general interest to the Nature Notes Department of this paper. Look for answers in this column.

Answers to Monday's Nature Notes.

1. Do shanks lay eggs, or how are their young born?
 Sharks are viviparous fishes, bringing forth live young, or at any rate, this is the rule for most living species. The young are fairly large at birth, and able to take care of themselves.

2. Does the jack-rabbit of Manitoba turn white in winter?
 The coat of this species, white-tailed jack-rabbit, Lepus campestris, turns white, or practically so, in situations where the ground is snowy all winter. The black tip at the ear does not change, and the under fur shows dark if the white outer layers of hairs is lifted. Where snow is only occasional, the coat merely turns lighter than in summer.

3. I have a big clump of Bee Balm in blossom and there are always two or more humming birds around it. The beautiful ruby-throat is common, and there are smaller, plainer ones. Are they females or young, or another species?

There is only one humming bird, the ruby-throat, east of the Mississippi (correspondent writes from Connecticut), but very likely the "plainer" ones are females or young, the latter resembling the female. Only the adult male has the ruby-throat. Immature males have spotted throat, and the females a whitish throat and under parts.

TWENTY AND TEN YEARS AGO.

Oct. 29, 1901.—Horse stolen from V. Marchio recovered on Saugerties road.

Superintendent Skinner declared both elections in School District No. 2 were illegal.

Death of Patrick Harvey on Meadow street.

Oct. 29, 1911.—Impressive ceremonies at Church of Holy Spirit when memorials were unveiled.

The first ice of the season formed.

Kearney Deane had an arm broken in a fall from a trolley car.

Adopted Has Been Treated.

There have been various explanations of the phrase, "How often make a man," but the second word is a corruption of the word "man" which in ancient days was a strike of the "punching bell" of the parish church. Three others are better of the death of a child, six of a woman and six of a man. When the parishioners would count the maximum number of strokes, their natural remark would be "How often make a man."

SPURIOUS NO. 6.
 Paid Off No. 6, our price 6 Cents at Two Branch's Drug Store.—Advertisement.

FOR JUSTICES OF THE SUPREME COURT

JUSTICE JOSEPH ROSCH. JUDGE ELLIS J. STALEY.

Justice Joseph Rosch, who was unanimously chosen by the Republican Convention of the Third Judicial District for Justice of the Supreme Court, is now filling the office for which he has been nominated, having been appointed by Governor Miller to succeed to the place made vacant by the elevation of Judge Emory C. Chase to the Court of Appeals.

During the brief period that he has presided on the Supreme Court Bench, in which time he has held a term of court in each of the seven counties of the district, he has conclusively demonstrated his eminent fitness for the office and won the admiration of both bench and bar for his forensic knowledge, judicial temperament, quick grasp of legal questions, and uniform courtesy.

With a total of seven Justices appointed to the seven counties of the district, as a matter of equity and fairness, one of that number should be conceded to Sullivan County, especially in view of the fact that the amount of litigation in the county is in excess of that of any of the other counties, except Albany and Rensselaer.

Judge Rosch went on the bench from one of the largest and most important law practices along the southern tier and was exceptionally well informed on all the intricate phases of the law and the accepted rulings of learned courts on questions of evidence and procedure that constantly come before a presiding jurist to decide.

The quality of his character and attainments were conspicuously dwelt upon by legislators of both parties when Governor Miller sent in his nomination. Senator Baumes, Republican, in moving for his immediate confirmation at that time paid Justice Rosch a glowing tribute, and Senator Walker, the Minority Leader, consented to the immediate confirmation of this appointment because of the emergency existing and the unquestioned fitness of Justice Rosch.

Justice Rosch enjoyed the unusual distinction of being unanimously and immediately confirmed.

He was the next day assigned to term work and on the following week presided at a Trial Term of the Supreme Court in the City of Albany, taking the place of one of the trial Justices who was compelled to leave. At that term an unusual, if not unprecedented, incident occurred, when he was publicly thanked by the jurors for the courtesy and kindness shown them.

Later in the year, when he was holding court during an exceedingly sultry period, he was again publicly thanked by the jury for his courtesy, kindness and thoughtfulness.

Just previous to his selection by Governor Miller for the judicial honor, he was unanimously endorsed to the governor by the bar of his county—members of both parties alike—for the appointment to the vacancy.

It will be seen that Justice Rosch was not appointed by Governor Miller and more recently nominated for a full term by a convention of delegates from all parts of the district on account of expediency or for sentimental reasons, but particularly on the solid ground of merit and eminent status for the difficult and exacting duties of the high office.

The distinction that has come to Justice Rosch and the achievement he has made in his profession are of appealing and absorbing interest to the average voter on account of the fact of his being strictly a self-made man, and his remarkable rise from a most humble beginning as the barefooted son of a village blacksmith to become the greatest lawyer in his part of the state and a Justice of the Supreme Court.

At the time of Justice Rosch's appointment by Governor Miller, the Sullivan County Record, a representative Democratic newspaper of Sullivan County, contained the appointment, paid a high tribute to Justice Rosch and expressed the hope that the Democratic of the Third Judicial District would join in nominating Justice Rosch for a full term.

Justice Rosch is a member of the New York State Bar Association, the Sullivan County Bar Association, New York Historical Society, Honorary Leader P. A. M. of Liberty of which he is a Past Master, Newburgh Chapter R. A. M. of Livingston Honor, Cyprus Commandery K. T. of Middletown, Katharine Station of Southampton, LaSalle Camp, Sons of Veterans of New York City, Freedom Lodge, I. O. O. F. of Liberty, Knights of Honorables of Westbury, Order of Elks of Port Jervis, member of the Hudson Valley Freeman's Association, and of the Republican Club of New York City.

Summary of Voting.
 The election of Justice Rosch was written from right to left. The first column the number of votes for Rosch, in which the votes from right to left are written from left to right, and the second column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the third column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the fourth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the fifth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the sixth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the seventh column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the eighth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the ninth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the tenth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the eleventh column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the twelfth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the thirteenth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the fourteenth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the fifteenth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the sixteenth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the seventeenth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the eighteenth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the nineteenth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the twentieth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the twenty-first column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the twenty-second column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the twenty-third column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the twenty-fourth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the twenty-fifth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the twenty-sixth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the twenty-seventh column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the twenty-eighth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the twenty-ninth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the thirtieth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the thirty-first column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the thirty-second column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the thirty-third column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the thirty-fourth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the thirty-fifth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the thirty-sixth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the thirty-seventh column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the thirty-eighth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the thirty-ninth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the fortieth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the forty-first column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the forty-second column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the forty-third column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the forty-fourth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the forty-fifth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the forty-sixth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the forty-seventh column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the forty-eighth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the forty-ninth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the fiftieth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the fifty-first column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the fifty-second column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the fifty-third column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the fifty-fourth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the fifty-fifth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the fifty-sixth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the fifty-seventh column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the fifty-eighth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the fifty-ninth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the sixtieth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the sixty-first column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the sixty-second column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the sixty-third column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the sixty-fourth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the sixty-fifth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the sixty-sixth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the sixty-seventh column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the sixty-eighth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the sixty-ninth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the seventieth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the seventy-first column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the seventy-second column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the seventy-third column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the seventy-fourth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the seventy-fifth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the seventy-sixth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the seventy-seventh column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the seventy-eighth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the seventy-ninth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the eightieth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the eighty-first column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the eighty-second column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the eighty-third column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the eighty-fourth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the eighty-fifth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the eighty-sixth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the eighty-seventh column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the eighty-eighth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the eighty-ninth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the ninetieth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the ninety-first column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the ninety-second column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the ninety-third column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the ninety-fourth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the ninety-fifth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the ninety-sixth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the ninety-seventh column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the ninety-eighth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the ninety-ninth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the one hundredth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the one hundred and first column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the one hundred and second column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the one hundred and third column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the one hundred and fourth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the one hundred and fifth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the one hundred and sixth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the one hundred and seventh column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the one hundred and eighth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the one hundred and ninth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the one hundred and tenth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the one hundred and eleventh column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the one hundred and twelfth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the one hundred and thirteenth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the one hundred and fourteenth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the one hundred and fifteenth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the one hundred and sixteenth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the one hundred and seventeenth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the one hundred and eighteenth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the one hundred and nineteenth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the one hundred and twentieth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the one hundred and twenty-first column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the one hundred and twenty-second column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the one hundred and twenty-third column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the one hundred and twenty-fourth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the one hundred and twenty-fifth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the one hundred and twenty-sixth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the one hundred and twenty-seventh column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the one hundred and twenty-eighth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the one hundred and twenty-ninth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the one hundred and thirtieth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the one hundred and thirty-first column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the one hundred and thirty-second column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the one hundred and thirty-third column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the one hundred and thirty-fourth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the one hundred and thirty-fifth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the one hundred and thirty-sixth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the one hundred and thirty-seventh column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the one hundred and thirty-eighth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the one hundred and thirty-ninth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the one hundred and fortieth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the one hundred and forty-first column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the one hundred and forty-second column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the one hundred and forty-third column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the one hundred and forty-fourth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the one hundred and forty-fifth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the one hundred and forty-sixth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the one hundred and forty-seventh column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the one hundred and forty-eighth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the one hundred and forty-ninth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the one hundred and fiftieth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the one hundred and fifty-first column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the one hundred and fifty-second column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the one hundred and fifty-third column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the one hundred and fifty-fourth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the one hundred and fifty-fifth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the one hundred and fifty-sixth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the one hundred and fifty-seventh column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the one hundred and fifty-eighth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the one hundred and fifty-ninth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the one hundred and sixtieth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the one hundred and sixty-first column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the one hundred and sixty-second column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the one hundred and sixty-third column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the one hundred and sixty-fourth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the one hundred and sixty-fifth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the one hundred and sixty-sixth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the one hundred and sixty-seventh column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the one hundred and sixty-eighth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the one hundred and sixty-ninth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the one hundred and seventieth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the one hundred and seventy-first column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the one hundred and seventy-second column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the one hundred and seventy-third column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the one hundred and seventy-fourth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the one hundred and seventy-fifth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the one hundred and seventy-sixth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the one hundred and seventy-seventh column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the one hundred and seventy-eighth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the one hundred and seventy-ninth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the one hundred and eightieth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the one hundred and eighty-first column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the one hundred and eighty-second column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the one hundred and eighty-third column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the one hundred and eighty-fourth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the one hundred and eighty-fifth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the one hundred and eighty-sixth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the one hundred and eighty-seventh column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the one hundred and eighty-eighth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the one hundred and eighty-ninth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the one hundred and ninetieth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the one hundred and ninety-first column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the one hundred and ninety-second column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the one hundred and ninety-third column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the one hundred and ninety-fourth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the one hundred and ninety-fifth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the one hundred and ninety-sixth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the one hundred and ninety-seventh column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the one hundred and ninety-eighth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the one hundred and ninety-ninth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundredth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and first column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and second column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and third column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and fourth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and fifth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and sixth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and seventh column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and eighth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and ninth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and tenth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and eleventh column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and twelfth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and thirteenth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and fourteenth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and fifteenth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and sixteenth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and seventeenth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and eighteenth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and nineteenth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and twentieth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and twenty-first column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and twenty-second column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and twenty-third column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and twenty-fourth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and twenty-fifth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and twenty-sixth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and twenty-seventh column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and twenty-eighth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and twenty-ninth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and thirtieth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and thirty-first column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and thirty-second column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and thirty-third column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and thirty-fourth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and thirty-fifth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and thirty-sixth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and thirty-seventh column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and thirty-eighth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and thirty-ninth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and fortieth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and forty-first column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and forty-second column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and forty-third column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and forty-fourth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and forty-fifth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and forty-sixth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and forty-seventh column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and forty-eighth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and forty-ninth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and fiftieth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and fifty-first column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and fifty-second column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and fifty-third column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and fifty-fourth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and fifty-fifth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and fifty-sixth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and fifty-seventh column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and fifty-eighth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and fifty-ninth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and sixtieth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and sixty-first column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and sixty-second column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and sixty-third column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and sixty-fourth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and sixty-fifth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and sixty-sixth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and sixty-seventh column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and sixty-eighth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and sixty-ninth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and seventieth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and seventy-first column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and seventy-second column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and seventy-third column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and seventy-fourth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and seventy-fifth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and seventy-sixth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and seventy-seventh column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and seventy-eighth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and seventy-ninth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and eightieth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and eighty-first column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and eighty-second column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and eighty-third column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and eighty-fourth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and eighty-fifth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and eighty-sixth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and eighty-seventh column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and eighty-eighth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and eighty-ninth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and ninetieth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and ninety-first column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and ninety-second column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and ninety-third column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and ninety-fourth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and ninety-fifth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and ninety-sixth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and ninety-seventh column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and ninety-eighth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and ninety-ninth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundredth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and first column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and second column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and third column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and fourth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and fifth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and sixth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and seventh column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and eighth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and ninth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and tenth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and eleventh column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and twelfth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and thirteenth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and fourteenth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and fifteenth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and sixteenth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and seventeenth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and eighteenth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and nineteenth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and twentieth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and twenty-first column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and twenty-second column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and twenty-third column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and twenty-fourth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and twenty-fifth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and twenty-sixth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and twenty-seventh column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and twenty-eighth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and twenty-ninth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and thirtieth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and thirty-first column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and thirty-second column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and thirty-third column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and thirty-fourth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and thirty-fifth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and thirty-sixth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and thirty-seventh column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and thirty-eighth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and thirty-ninth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and fortieth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and forty-first column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and forty-second column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and forty-third column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and forty-fourth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and forty-fifth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and forty-sixth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and forty-seventh column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the two hundred and forty-eighth column the number of votes for Staley, written from left to right, and the two hundred and forty-ninth column the number of votes for Rosch, written from left to right, and the

SPECIAL NO. 1
Tourism Center, Bldg. 2, TEX
BROWN'S DRUG STORE - ADJ.
thousand

OPEN 10:00 A. M. to 2:00
SATURDAY 9:00 to 12:

HOES GREATEST LOCAL HISTORIAN

Retired Navy Chaplain Who Died Wednesday, By His Patient Research and Accuracy of Presentation, Conferred Great Honor on Students of County, State and National History.

Roswell Randall Hoes, the retired chaplain of the United States Navy, whose death at Washington, D. C., on Wednesday was announced in Thursday night's Freeman, was the greatest local historian and collector of historical material relating to Kingston and Ulster county that the county ever has known.

His death marks the close of a career that was devoted to the county of his birth, and his lament when he recovered from the accident which eventuated in his death enabled him to correspond with his friends was that he no longer would be able to devote himself to the collection and study of historical material relating to Ulster.

Chaplain Hoes was more than a mere local historian however, and on all subjects relating to the early history of New York as a colony he was an acknowledged authority. His knowledge was gained first hand. He learned the language of the Holland Dutchmen who settled New York state, he frequently visited the famous libraries of Europe where the early Dutch documents and books are preserved, he copied many of them and translated them into modern English, and he was instrumental in procuring their publication. The debt which the student and reader of New York state history owes to Chaplain Hoes is far beyond computation.

Accuracy of historical statement was the illuminating characteristic of Chaplain Hoes which has made all his historical work of lasting value. He placed historical legend and tradition in their proper place—on the shelf with dime-novel fiction—and refused either to be fooled or to fool other people with them. Any statement he made regarding history could be and generally was proved. The most interesting exposition of this commendable trait of his character was his exposure of the "Sir" Thomas Chambers myth. Thomas Chambers was the red-headed English carpenter who moved here from Rensselaer and founded Kingston. He never had "Sir" on any other title of nobility tacked on his name, and judging from the early magistrates' records of the then village of Wiltwyck, he would have been arrested once more if anybody had called him "Sir" Thomas. The modern error apparently was due to the fact that he was known by later generations as the "Lord of the Manor of Foxhall." Chaplain Hoes spent many days of labor and much money in disproving the "Sir" Thomas myth, but he felt well-repaid when the obnoxious and misplaced "Sir" was removed from the Chambers monument in Montpelier cemetery.

One of the most noteworthy accomplishments of Chaplain Hoes was made in conjunction with the late Benjamin M. Brink of this city, which resulted in the return of the body of General George Clinton, first governor of the state of New York, from the Congressional Cemetery at Washington, D. C., to his native county of Ulster, and the reinterment in the First Dutch Church yard, within sight of the office which Governor Clinton occupied as county clerk for fifty-two years and within sight also of the steps of the Ulster county court house, where he was inaugurated as first governor of New York.

The idea was conceived at a discussion between Chaplain Hoes and Mr. Brink during one of the former's periodical visits to Kingston. Mr. Brink at that time was editor of Older Times, which he had founded a short time before. At the same time they decided to try and interest citizens of Kingston in an appropriate celebration of the two hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the founding of Kingston, which was drawing near, and to have the removal of Governor Clinton's remains take place at the time of the celebration. Their plans were confided to The Freeman and both Chaplain Hoes and Mr. Brink began to work quietly. Chaplain Hoes on his return to Washington began to get in touch with the Clinton heirs, whose written permission for the removal of the governor's remains from the Congressional Cemetery had to be procured. The heirs were widely scattered, some of them at first were opposed to the removal of the remains from the Congressional Cemetery until Chaplain Hoes visited them personally and convinced them that Ulster county was the most appropriate place to be the last resting place of the man who for twenty-one years served as governor of the Empire state—the longest record of any governor the state ever had. Mr. Brink also saw some of the heirs and the written consent had been secured from practically all of them when the suggestion was made public by Mr. Brink.

It will be recalled by readers of The Freeman that when the suggestion regarding the return to Kingston of the remains of Governor Clinton first was made to the committee on plan and scope of the celebration, the committee was busily engaged in trying to solve the difficult problems of airplane exhibitions and other amusements for the celebration crowds and did not become actively interested until it learned that Mr. Brink, through personal solicitation of Governor Charles E. Hughes and Chaplain Hoes through personal solicitation of President Theodore Roosevelt, and various army and naval officials had obtained the promise of cooperation of state and federal governments in order that the Clinton obsequies should conform to the high honors usually paid to a governor of New York state and vice president of the United States. Chaplain Hoes and Mr. Brink were appointed by the Clinton heirs their personal representatives, and attended to all the details connected with the removal of the Clinton remains to Kingston and carried on the correspondence with the federal and state governments which resulted in the imposing ceremonies which attended the removal of the first governor's remains from Washington to Kingston.

Chaplain Hoes made all his undertakings in the historical line gigantic. At an early age he became interested in the old Dutch records of the First Dutch Church, and he spent many years in translating and transcribing them. The record of baptisms and marriages of the historic church from its foundation in 1653 to the early part of 1800 was painstakingly transcribed by Chaplain Hoes and through the generosity of the late S. D. Coykendall was published in a quarto volume which is indispensable to the student of early New York genealogy. The importance of these records cannot be overestimated. The church at The Esopus, as the First Dutch Church popularly was known for more than two centuries, was one of the most important of the Dutch churches of the colony of New York, and the marriages of many of the early Knickerbocker families were performed and recorded here.

Chaplain Hoes prepared several historical papers of magnitude which he read in Kingston. One paper, relating to the First Dutch Church, was read before the New York State Historical Association at its meeting in Kingston some years ago. Another paper was read at a service in the church. Several years ago Chaplain Hoes was invited by the board of supervisors to prepare a paper dealing with the ancient history of the Ulster county court house, which was read before that body and published in the printed proceedings as well as in pamphlet form.

The literary style possessed by Chaplain Hoes was a simple, straightforward and intensely interesting either to the historical student or the general reader. In the preparation of historical matter for publication he divested himself entirely of prejudices or preconceived ideas and rebuilt from the facts a structure whose accuracy of reproduction could not be doubted. He was an occasional contributor to the ten volumes of Older Times when that magazine was conducted by Mr. Brink, and occasionally contributed historical gems to The Freeman, but he explained that his literary output was limited because he was too busy in searching for material.

The mass of original documents, transcripts of records, books, pamphlets, programs, lists of voters, taxpayers, etc., was enormous. Everything related to Ulster county and it was his lifelong hope to arrange every scrap of historical material with a complete index so as to make the entire mass of material available to the historical or genealogical student of the future. On the occasion of a visit to Kingston three years ago he said he had spent a fortune in collecting historical books, documents, etc., and there is no doubt that the fortune was of considerable size.

The collection of documents, transcripts of records, etc., became enormous in size with the passing of years. During his active service as chaplain in the United States navy, he took all the available material he had collected while on shore leave with him, and studied it on shipboard. From time to time the collection became too large for his limited quarters on board ship with the result that at one time he had barrels and boxes of valuable historical material relating to Ulster county stored in Japan, San Francisco, Brooklyn and Washington. Besides a mass of material which was stored in the vault of one of the Kingston banks. Three years ago he said he was beginning to gather this material together in Washington.

Like most collectors of historical material, Chaplain Hoes not only was an enthusiast but he was an indefatigable worker. On his visits to Kingston he would spend days in the county clerk's office, copying old records of the early courts, grants of land, etc., working far into the night. His visits here usually began with a tour of printing offices to procure copies of pamphlets, etc., which generally were saved for him because, he said, they would be of value to some historical student of the future. If he heard of any ancient document having been discovered in any family, he promptly visited the family and tried to procure the document for his collection.

In all his work, his greatest interest attached to Kingston and the old First Dutch Church, of which his father had been pastor for twenty-one years. His knowledge of the history of the Reformed Dutch Church in America was unsurpassed, except perhaps by the late Rev. Edward Tansley Corwin, D. D., the historian of the church. When Dr. Corwin was commissioned to visit Holland by the state of New York for the purpose of collecting transcripts of the church records on file with the government of the Netherlands and in the various other archives, Chaplain Hoes went also to Holland and helped him, and his ability in digging out valuable historical material resulted in the discovery of many "finds." The records then collected in Holland later were published by the state of New York in six large volumes under the title of "The Ecclesiastical Records of the State of New York." They were published while Hugh Hastings was historian, and form one of the most valuable contributions to historical literature relating to early New York in existence. Dr. Corwin paid due tribute to the assistance rendered by Chaplain Hoes both in his report to the legislature and in a supplemental report.

Chaplain Hoes's affection for the historic First Dutch Church was inherited from his father, the Rev. John Canitie Farrell Hoes, D. D., who served as pastor from 1845 to 1887, after having previously served as pastor of the Reformed churches at Chittenango, N. Y., and Ithaca, N. Y., after his admission to the ministry. Dr. Hoes took no other charge after retiring from the ministry of the Kingston church but continued to live here until his death. He had been born in Middleburg, Schoharie county, in 1811, and was of Dutch ancestry. At an early age he moved to Kinderhook, Columbia county, and his aunt was the wife of President Martin Van Buren. Dr. Hoes married Lucy Maria Randall of Cortland, N. Y. She was the daughter of General Roswell Randall and sister of the Hon. Henry S. Randall, who was secretary of state in 1852 and author of a "Life of Jefferson." Three children were born to Dr. and Mrs. Hoes: Harriet Stephens, wife of the Rev. O. H. Seymour, who died several years ago; Mary Swart, widow of the late Charles Burhans, who survives, and Roswell Randall Hoes.

Chaplain Hoes was born in Kingston February 28, 1850, and attended Kingston Academy, from which he graduated in 1867. He had pursued the classical course and after graduation was admitted to the freshman class of Amherst College. He attended also Princeton College and the Princeton Theological Seminary being graduated from both these institutions. His service as chaplain in the United States Navy began with his appointment July 26, 1882, was commissioned with the rank of captain March 2, 1903, and retired from active service February 28, 1912, on reaching the age of 62 years. During his term of service he was in sea service seven years and ten months and on shore or other duty eighteen years and seven months.

During the war with Spain, Chaplain Hoes was stationed with the fleet on duty in Cuban waters, and crossed the battle of Santiago. His conduct during the battle was highly praised afterward by the commander of his vessel.

Chaplain Hoes was twice married. By his former marriage he is survived by two children, Isabel and Paul Hoes; he is survived also by his wife and two children by his second marriage, Gouverneur and Lawrence Hoes, also by his sister, Mrs. Charles Burhans.

Appropriately, the funeral will take place from the church in whose history for more than two hundred and fifty years he was so actively identified. It will take place from the First Dutch Church on Saturday afternoon at four o'clock, with interment in the family plot in Wiltwyck cemetery.

Chaplain Hoes was a member of numerous historical and other societies and organizations. While in Washington he spent much of his time at the Cosmos Club. He was a member of the Holland Society of New York, was honorary member of the New York State Historical Association and was librarian of the Ulster County Society in the city of New York.

ROSENDALE BAPTIST CHURCH.

Healthy Activity is Shown in all Departments.

The reorganization of the Christian Endeavor Society of the Rosendale Baptist Church Sunday evening resulted in the election of the following officers for the ensuing year: President, Miss May Lefever; vice-president, Miss Ethel Paradise; secretary, Miss Vera Campbell; treasurer, Miss Helen Hermandance; and the appointment of several committees which have already started to work.

At the church business meeting held Thursday night it was shown by the reports that all the departments of the church are in a prosperous condition. The parsonage has just been completely renovated, every room having been newly painted and papered; the church heater is being repaired; a new and up-to-date electric lighting system is being installed in the church and other improvements made. When all the improvements are completed the Rosendale Baptist Church will own one of the best equipped church properties of any village in Ulster county.

A Young People's Bible Study Class has been organized in connection with the church to conform with the rules of the high school, that the young people of the village may get their regular regents counts for Bible study. This class has as its instructor a normal graduate and teacher of experience. All young people welcome to membership.

A Women's Missionary Society is to be organized during the month of November and it is hoped that every woman of the church and congregation will join.

The ladies of this church will serve a clam chowder supper at the church Thursday evening, November 4, at 6 o'clock. Menu, clam chowder, baked beans, potato salad and other good things to eat. Price 35 cents. Everyone invited.

At The St. James Church.

"Echo Music" will be the feature of the evening service at the St. James Methodist Church (The Green Street Church) on Sunday. The choir will be assisted by Miss Helen Carter, soprano, and Professor C. R. Spradling, whose violin music is so appealing. The service promises to be one of unusual interest because of the character of the music. Dr. Brundage will speak on "Baptismal Faith and Power." The following Sunday will begin a series of "Baptismal Faith and Power."

God Bless of Foreign Air.

A backpacker from a light air balloon on a service that is scheduled for the close of a night here.

We double the sales by dividing the profits.

KAYSER GLOVES

50c, 75c, 97c
up to $1.97

S. B. Bingham

NEED CORSETS

For Steel Figures
$5.00 to $7.00

80 SMART NEW COATS!

FOR WOMEN AND MISSES

ON SALE FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

All hand picked, carefully selected garments of all wool material, with cloth or fur collars.

You'll say they are wonderful values.

$16.50, 19.00, 22.00, 25.00, 29.00, 34.00, 39.00 and 45.00.

MORE NEW RUGS!

Sizes 9 by 12 and 8-3 by 10-6.

Our rug stock is being replenished from week to week with the best values money can buy. Our small profit, quick sale methods has increased our rug sales wonderfully. Just come and look them over.

$22.00 25.00, 35.00, 39.00 and 49.00

THE DOWNTOWN DRY GOODS STORE

26 BROADWAY, COR. MILL ST.

ON-A-JOB, OFF-A-JOB JIM!

Being a Story
Of how Jim got on a job and why he got off it again.

"It's plain as oakum's in seams that a cigarette set that fire," declared Captain Weather's day after the fire. He was standing near his catboat and airing his views to Jim who had come down to the boat yard for the last time. "Fifteen habit, cigarette smoking," continued the old man. "About time something was done to put a stop to it. Ought not to be allowed in a boat yard anyway, where there is so much gasoline, paint and paint remover around. He, there," as Jim turned away. "What's your plan for today?"

"I'm off. There's no job around here for me."
"There is, if you want one. I'm going to scrape the barnacles off the bottom of my boat, barnacles and shale. I always put a fresh coat of paint on the lady before the winter sets in. Helps protect the boat."
"If the job will last two days, I'll stay."
"Two days? With scraping, sandpapering, caulking and painting, there's more than two days' work here."

"I'm sorry. I can only spend two days here. Will that do?"
The old captain acquiesced. He had taken a liking to Jim and besides, was in a reminiscent mood and wanted someone to talk to. So he handed a scraper to Jim and told him to get busy on the bottom where the sea growths were in thick layers.
As they worked he talked. After he had exhausted the subject of the modern young man whose shiftless, irresponsible habits were leading him to fire and brimstone fates, he switched off and discussed the modern young lady.

"Take Lillie Draper, the boss's daughter, for instance. Ain't she one terror? By gum! She's wilder than a flock of geese squawking for a leader. There ain't no holding her back."
"I owe my job here to her," put in Jim gallantly.

"You got that because you're a male. She'd run her feet off to oblige a young man. But she has no steadiness; you can't rely on her any more than you can a crab."
"See here, Captain. Lillie's been a mighty good friend to me. Wain't she the one who went out in the boat to get me from the burning ship and—"

"I ain't saying she's not brave, but she's shiftless—she's—"

The captain's mouth closed with a snap and his eyes turned wide with alarm. About the noisy phunks about Lillie, drizzled by two enormous hounds, and they were making straight for the captain's catboat. On and on they came, heedless of the warning that was screeched at them. "Look out for the paint!"

Over went the copper paint, over went the white. For the moment the trio halted, hearing the way for the captain's intervention, while the paint spread and spread over the plank.

Turn with a part turn of her head, Lillie shook a reproving finger at him. "Captain," she intimated, "modern girls are apt to do most anything nowadays, but they are rather sensitive about their characters just the same. And this young lady objects to being called wild."

(Of like a flash, with her two hounds jumping at their heels, she left behind her two dazed men.

"Well, I'll say it again, even if it does cost me two quarts of good paint," declared the captain. "They are a wild lot—modern women."
Copyright, 1921, by Alice Williams Chaplin.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

3687

A Simple Practical Model.

Pattern 3687 is illustrated in the comfortable apron. It is a one piece model cut in 4 sizes: 4, 6, 8, and 10 years. An 8 year size will require 1 1/2 yards of 27 inch material.

Cretonne, crepe, crash, seersucker, percale, linen, lawn and calico are good for this style.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 12 cents for coin or stamps by The Freeman, Pattern Department, Rosendale, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

Catalogue Notice.

Send 15c in coin or stamps for our up-to-date spring and summer 1921 catalogue, containing 350 designs of Ladies', Misses' and Children's Patterns, a concise and comprehensive article on dressmaking, and some points for the needle (illustrating 24 of the various, simple stitches), all valuable hints to the home dressmaker.

The general manager of a lunch layout is one general who doesn't mind a counter attack.

"Don't postpone until tomorrow the meanness you can cut out today."

If you boast of your good fortune you're a swell head. If you complain of your ill luck you're a swell head. If you laugh at all you're a swell head. If you're a swell head, you're a swell head.

Probably Henry Ford is inventing that synthetic one to fool his devoted stock.

May Have Better Luck.

Indiscreet Correspondent of Boston (Ark.) Democrat.

Mrs. Albert Evans 4-671, her good luck with her husband. He had only 20 little chicks, but she's outwitted and she's getting ahead.

There is hope for the say-hed but none for the say-hed.

Not so many people who are out for the money as they are for the money.

There would never be a parade if there were no people to watch it.

There would never be a parade if there were no people to watch it.

THE OFFICE CAT

By Jumbo

Whispers At The Confectioner's.

What the caramels whispered to the striped candy: "When you see your growth I suppose you will be a barber pole."

What the throat lozenges whispered to the lemon drops: "Let's enjoy today even if we are to be down in the month tomorrow."

What the weary spoon whispered to the fourth dish of ice cream: "She must have an elastic tummy."

What the glass of water whispered to the table: "Wonder if I expect every street of life to be paved with ice-cream bricks?"

What the little girl with the penny whispered to the stick of striped candy: "You're next."

What the fountain whispered to the effervescent couple: "Much the word! She will do the milking if you will hold the pail."

According to Prof. Einstein: "America is ruled by women. That's why America is so much like other countries."

Drink to me only with thine eye. I'm off this home brew stuff.

The general manager of a lunch layout is one general who doesn't mind a counter attack.

"Don't postpone until tomorrow the meanness you can cut out today."

If you boast of your good fortune you're a swell head. If you complain of your ill luck you're a swell head. If you laugh at all you're a swell head. If you're a swell head, you're a swell head.

Probably Henry Ford is inventing that synthetic one to fool his devoted stock.

May Have Better Luck.

Indiscreet Correspondent of Boston (Ark.) Democrat.

You remember the story of the Pitcher—

It made a good many trips to the well and it came back in good order.

"I can take care of myself," it said—"they don't need to talk about risks to me."

But it went once too often.

After that it was only part of a pitcher, and they didn't need to talk to it about risks—it knew.

A lot of people won't believe coffee can harm them until it does harm them.

"Nonsense!" they say, "it never disturbs me."

When it does disturb them, then they know.

Often the disturbance which they then recognize is the result of irritations to nerves and digestion which have been going on for a long time.

If you have to be awake at night and count the clock ticks, after an evening cup of coffee, then you know that it's better to be safe than sorry.

The risk of coffee's harm is gone when the meal-time drink is Postum.

Here's a delightful and satisfying table beverage, with charm for the taste and without harm for nerves or digestion. You know you're on the right road with Postum; there's never the possibility that you'll go once too often.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (which) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum (which) made by boiling for 20 minutes.

"There's a Reason" for Postum

Made by Postum Cereal Company, Inc., Battle Creek, Mich.

COLONIAL THEATRE

Mechanics' Hall, Henry Street

TONIGHT LAST TIME

MARY PICKFORD

The World's Sweetheart in the Beautiful Screen Drama, Her Latest Success . . .

'THE LOVE LIGHT'

Admission 20c War Tax 2c

Coming--All Next Week--Matinees Daily

THE BIGGEST PICTURE OF THE WORLD

WAY DOWN EAST

Special Music at Matinees and Nights

ONE OF THE MANY THRILLING SCENES IN D.W. GRIFFITH'S 'WAY DOWN EAST'

Admission 50c--War Tax 5c--Total 55c

NO RESERVED SEATS--A $2 Entertainment for Half a Dollar

CHARLTON STICKS BY HIS TOWN

ROBERT F. CHARLTON.

A lifetime spent in the town of Kingston has given Robert F. Charlton unusual opportunity to become acquainted with town affairs, which he improved to the advantage of his neighbors and his town during the six years he has been serving the town as supervisor.

Mr. Charlton never has allowed an opportunity to pass whereby the town of Kingston would be benefited. He has been a faithful worker at all times and has maintained a consistent attitude of protecting the rights of his people.

His six years' service in the board of supervisors have brought Mr. Charlton in close touch with all county officials, who respect his sound judgment. He is familiar with the public business of the town to a degree impossible by anyone else because of his long experience with town affairs, and in all matters affecting the county he always has been ready to advance the interests of the taxpayers.

Mr. Charlton fully understands the needs of the farmer because that is his business. Prior to engaging in farming he was actively engaged in the stone business in his native town.

In nominating him for supervisor the Republicans again have sought to retain the high standards and high ideals which Mr. Charlton has brought to it, and voters will perform a pleasant duty to themselves and their neighbors by re-electing him on November 8.

PREPARED FOR STRIKE.

Seib Was Part Of State Organization For Emergency.

That the wants of the people of Ulster county would have been carefully looked after should the big railroad strike been carried out is evidenced by plans made by the state through Governor Miller's special emergency committee. Charles B. Seib of this city, who is the civil engineer in charge of maintenance for the highway department of New York state with offices at the court house, received the following telegram on Thursday afternoon from Albany notifying him that he had been appointed food and fuel administrator for Ulster county:

C. B. Seib, Court House, Kingston, N. Y.

As part of the organization formed by the governor's special emergency committee in case of the stopping of railroad traffic, you will act as food and fuel administrator for your county reporting necessities and conditions to the division engineer of your district who will be direct food and fuel administrator. You should at once begin the making of surveys of transportation facilities in your county with reference to fuel and food requirements in order that possible emergencies may be met in the county. A representative from the food and fuel commission will assist you. Letter follows.

CHARLES L. CADLE, Supt. of Board of Public Works Chairman Special Emergency Committee.

Mr. Seib started at once on receipt of the telegram to arrange for making of the surveys as requested, but held up the plans upon learning that the railroad strike had been called off by the union heads recalling the order to strike.

Memorandum.

Persons born between June 21 and July 22, when the sun is in Cancer, are characterized by a sympathetic, persistent, and unyielding nature; feeling easily hurt; love money; love food of fine clothes, silver and jewelry; lovers of home without the objects, and much executive ability. Persons born between July 22 and August 22, when the sun is in Leo, have much self-control, imagination, sympathy, and generosity. They are good persons, good cooks, and good story tellers. Their ambition often leads them away from the consequences of their actions. They are light, elegant, graceful, attractive, charming, and love for creature comforts.

Just Tunes.

Just Tunes says you've got to believe the judgment of a man who has sold for a hundred years and a year later can't even remember his name.

SPRINGS NO. 2.

One can find the best of the best in the Springs No. 2. One can find the best of the best in the Springs No. 2. One can find the best of the best in the Springs No. 2.

Available in Kingston Immediately 9 Per Cent

HAMBURG AMERICAN BOND.

NORTH-GERMAN LLOYD STEAMSHIP BOND.

Two of Germany's highest grade securities and two of the most famous steamship companies covering the globe.

A limited amount of these standard gilt-edged securities are to be sold in Kingston on the easy plan. Look over the record of these securities, ask any well-informed investor of the earning capacity of these lines and their splendid record of dividend paying—see what the increased capacity of the equipment now owned will mean—then mail the coupon on the bottom of this column or phone 596 for further detail.

You will never have another opportunity to "get in" on such an absolutely gilt-edged investment as is offered you right now. We sincerely believe that this is the opportunity of a life-time, and we urgently advise you to take advantage of this great offer.

About This Investment

The Hamburg-American Steamship Company was incorporated in 1847, and its assets amount to about $800,000,000. Although the war tended to suspend active operations of the company for a period of over two years, nevertheless the company ran true to form and paid its dividends regularly. IT HAS NEVER DEFERRED OR DEFAULTED AND NEVER WILL!

Having again resumed operations, the company has entered into a very profitable agreement with the UNITED AMERICAN LINES, a steamship company controlled by the HARRIMAN INTERESTS, also has formed an agreement with the Russian Government whereby the entire shipping trade into and out of the Baltic Ports of Russia has been handed over to the HAMBURG-AMERICAN LINES. What this means in the way of profits to the investor is unlimited.

The North-German Lloyd Steamship Company was organized in 1856, and together with the Hamburg-American Lines, became one of the very largest companies of its kind. THE FINANCIAL POSITION OF THIS COMPANY IS VERY STRONG. It may also be said of the North-German Lloyd Company, that during the suspension of business in the year 1920, the company declared regular dividends, thus showing the tremendous earning power of her 117 first-class sea-going steamers, and her auxiliary fleet of 230 minor craft. The early part of the year of 1921 finds the company has resumed complete operations, and is now in a strong position to handle the ever-increasing trade of Germany with the outside world.

DATA FOR COMPARISON

THE FOLLOWING TABLE IS A RELIABLE INDICATION OF HOW QUICKLY THE NORTH-GERMAN LLOYD HAS COME BACK:

Years	Net Earnings	Dividends Paid	% Paid	% Earned
1919	$19,700,000	$10,000,000	8%	15.76%
1920	$22,400,000	$10,000,000	8%	17.90%

STEAMSHIP LINES AMONG FIRST TO REFLECT INDUSTRIAL PROSPERITY

THE NORTH-GERMAN LLOYD will spontaneously reflect the Industrial Prosperity upon which Germany now enters. Germany's steamship lines are the arteries of her Foreign trade. Her Merchant Marine is perhaps the most vital link in the vast chain of her industrial enterprises. Her ships are so many grappling hooks, as it were, which tie up the Foreign Markets abroad with Germany's productive centers at home. They must be maintained and operated efficiently and no phase of industrial activity in Germany can prosper without benefiting proportionately the great carriers of her merchandise.

INTEREST ON BONDS PAID DURING WAR

THE BEST THAT CAN BE SAID in favor of this issue is that throughout the war and during the uncertain period which followed, the North-German Lloyd, with its ships idle, was able to meet the interest payments on its bonds regularly.

NORMAL VALUE $476.00

THE ABOVE UNIT MAY BE PURCHASED ON OUR PARTIAL PAYMENT PLAN FOR A PRICE FAR BELOW THE NORMAL VALUE. TAKE ADVANTAGE—GRASP THE OPPORTUNITY—BUY NOW!

New York World says in its news columns on Friday, October 7, 1921

STINNES IS BUYING STOCK OF NORTH GERMAN LLOYD

Berlin, Oct. 7.—Hugo Stinnes has recently been buying heavily of stock of the North German Lloyd Steamship Company to assure himself an authoritative influence in the organization, according to Hamburg dispatches. These quote administrative quarters of the organization as protesting against the rumors that an agreement with Herr Stinnes had been reached.

It is admitted, however, that Stinnes is planning an important expansion of his shipping interests. North German Lloyd shares have been going up steadily since his activities have become known.

Stinnes is Germany's Rockefeller—he knows all about these securities and his judgment should help you decide as to their value to you.

New York American says in its news columns of October 17, 1921

5 VESSELS TO PANAMA, HAMBURG-AMERICAN PLAN

Julius P. Meyers, American representative of the Hamburg-American Line, said that four, and perhaps five, steamers will be used by the company in maintaining the monthly sailings between Germany and the Panama Canal region. The line is entirely independent of the United American Lines, he said, and is not covered by the agreement between the two companies.

The first sailing will be made by the Aulicks on November 13, and will be followed by the Amstel, Andula and Eupatoria. These vessels were built originally for the Levant service, but the company decided that the trans-Atlantic business offered more opportunities for profit. The ships range from 5,000 to 6,000 tons each.

WHAT HEATING PIPES WILL WASTE

Here are the losses from 50 feet of steam pipe during one average heating season. In these calculations, the temperature of the steam is placed at 220 degrees F. and temperature outside the pipe at 70 degrees F.

1 inch Pipe 11-2 TONS

2 inch Pipe 28-10 TONS

3 inch Pipe 41-10 TONS

4 inch Pipe 53-10 TONS

You may think you are getting all the heat you should but your (old) pipe is never heated. Each inch of pipe you pay the bill—unless your heating pipes are properly insulated. Don't wait till winter is here to do it. Consult us now about Kingston Pipe Covering.

CAMPBELL SUPPLY CO.

Street & Ferry Rd., KINGSTON, N. Y. The Big Downtown Store

Valuable People. The value of a pipe is not measured by its cost, independent judgment, and moral courage, who require to be considered and referred to be called. It is only concerned to be right and not to be wrong. It is only concerned to be right and not to be wrong. It is only concerned to be right and not to be wrong.

PORT EWEN.

Port Ewen, Oct. 29.—Mrs. M. McKean and daughter of Housonville, Mrs. Grant E. Robinson of Delhi and Mrs. John Lynn of Hamilton street were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Foote in Red Hook Thursday.

The Rev. Grant E. Robinson, pastor of the Methodist Church at Delhi, preached a stirring sermon at the community evangelistic service in the Methodist Church Thursday evening from these words, "Thy Kingdom Come." Mr. Robinson gave to his hearers a wonderful message and left an impression that was lasting. The solo sung by Prof. Richards, entitled "The Lord is My Shepherd," was rendered very beautifully.

A fine minstrel show, consisting of male and female talent of Port Ewen, will be given soon. The date will be announced in this paper in a few days.

A public hearing on the application of Frederick J. Spinnaker for a certificate of public convenience and necessity for the operation of a stage route by auto bus is and between the city of Kingston and Port Ewen will be held at the court house in Kingston on Wednesday, November 2, at 2 p. m., by the commission.

Mr. H. B. Allen, Jr., assistant counsel, The Rev. John Harbison of Pleasant, N. Y., a former pastor of the Reformed Church, called on Dr. and Mrs. G. W. Ross on Broadway Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Fyle and grandson of New York city have moved into their new home on Valley View avenue.

Mrs. C. E. Quicker of about avenue has the care of friends in Kingston Friday.

Larry Nelson, of Broadway, taxi driver, has a new Ford Sedan to be used in his business.

Mrs. Elsworth Cook of Housonville is the guest of Mrs. John Lynn on Hamilton street.

Miss Clara Stimpert of Kingston was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. George Smith on Broadway Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Stinson, who have been the guests of relatives here for a few weeks, returned to their home at Charleston, S. C., on Thursday.

Miss Alice Lapine is visiting relatives in New York city.

Captain Thomas Grimes of New York city spent the week end at his home on Broadway.

The community evangelistic services will be continued each night during the week. Keep the evenings free so as to attend.

Simon Middah has started building his new house on Stout avenue.

The Rev. and Mrs. Grant E. Robinson, who have been the guests of Mrs. George P. Griffin on Hamilton street, have returned to their home in Delhi.

Mrs. Maggie Schossmaker, who has spent the summer at Lake Mohawk, returned to her home on Broadway Friday.

Reformed Church, the Rev. L. Appeldoorn, minister.—Sunday school, 9:30. A. M. Taylor, superintendent. Morning worship with children's sermonette at 10:30. Theme, "The Golden Rule." Evening worship in union evangelistic service at the Methodist Church. A cordial invitation is extended to all these services.

Methodist Episcopal Church, the Rev. George E. Wright, D. D., minister.—Sunday school, 10. Morning worship, 11. Theme, "A Night's Change." Epworth League, 6:30. Evening worship, 7:30. Evangelistic service. The Rev. Harry Campbell will be the preacher. Plans started by the church by Prof. Richards, bright, cheerful, happy service. Everybody cordially welcome to these services.

Church of the Presentation, the Rev. M. Gaurin, pastor.—Mass, 7:30, 10:30. Sunday school 2 o'clock.

Only Four Puffs. Recently Jack, age eleven, became terribly sick quite suddenly, and for apparently no reason. His mother and every day to learn what he had been eating that could have caused his illness. Finally in a faint voice he said: "Mother, do you suppose four puffs on a cigarette could make me this sick?"—Indianapolis News.

SPECIAL NO. 3. Lucky Strike Cigarettes. One Price 10c Package, $1.45. Ten Smoother's Drug Store.—Advertisement.

SPRINGS NO. 2. One can find the best of the best in the Springs No. 2. One can find the best of the best in the Springs No. 2.

STANLEY SCOTT & CO. 1,163 Broadway, New York City.

Coupon

Kindly send me further information on your easy payment plan in purchasing Hamburg-American Line and North German Lloyd bonds.

I understand that I am obliged in no way, but to the extent of considering with an open mind the data which I am about to receive.

Name _____

Address _____

City _____

Occupation _____ Phone _____

Sign and Mail the Above Coupon or Communicate With Representatives of

51 John Street or Phone Kingston 596

STANLEY SCOTT & CO.

ONE CENT A WORD ADVS. BRING RESULTS

Evening, 7-9 30c-40c
(including tax)

Joe Stuart, colored, has resigned as a Pullman porter on the Central branch. He resigned in a hall. It came about this way: One night Joe was standing on the platform at Fort Smith. Suddenly he slipped and fell, and as he fell he threw his lantern high into the air. The engineers thought the lantern was giving the lightest sign and pulled out of the station, leaving Joe on the platform. That proved Joe and he decided to quit. Arthur Gabe.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 29, 1921.
Sun rises, 6:26, sets, 5:01
Weather, clear.
The Temperature.
The lowest point registered by the thermometer last night was 45 degrees. The highest point reached up until noon today was 59 degrees.
Weather Forecast.
Washington, Oct. 29—Increasing cloudiness and warmer tonight, followed by rain Sunday. Increasing easterly and southeasterly winds, becoming fresh to strong Sunday.

BUSINESS NOTICES.
M. BROBERG, Chiropractor,
Neuropath and Chiropractor, 66 St. James street corner (Hilton avenue). Telephone 764. Lady attendant.

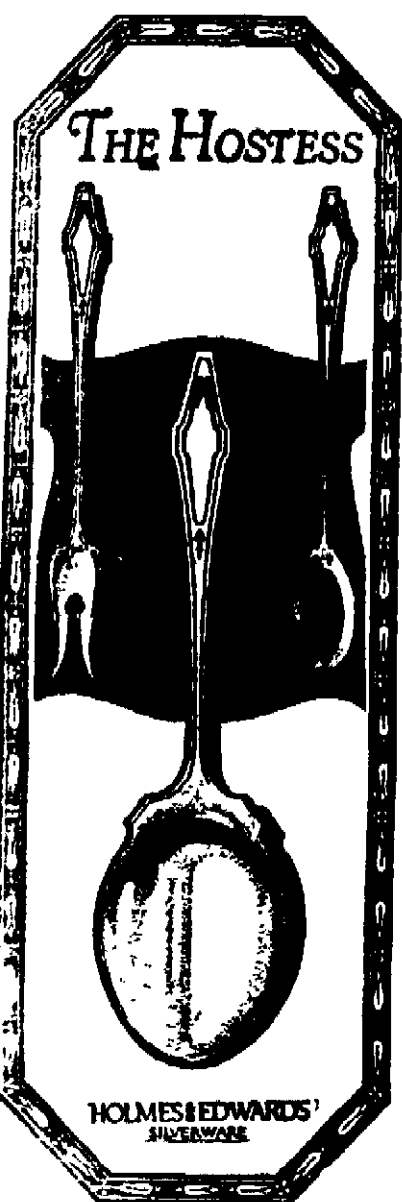

SNYDER BROTHERS EXPRESS
Porter & C. V. Hogan Express
W. W. Snyder, proprietors.
Phone 764. 628 Broadway, City and country delivery service. "Low Van" for local and long distance.

Come in and eat a dollar dinner when you go out pay 50 cents. 47 North Front street. Delicatessen here.

LAW OFFICE MOVED
Virgil B. Van Wageningen, attorney-at-law, is now located at 210 FAIR STREET, having moved from 32 Main street. Offices are on second floor of the Preston Building, next door to the county clerk's office.

Now is the time to have your house painted. Let us estimate. Our prices are reasonable, also carpenter and mason work in all its branches. 215 Broadway. Tel. 1455-M.

Dr. Magnus Gross
Chiropractor
254-256 Wall Street. Tel. 420.
Treats all foot ailments. Open evenings Sunday by appointment.

The new pattern that lends new beauty to your table.

Cordially Yours,
Safford & Scudder
JEWELERS.

"The House of Lucky Wedding Rings."
310 Wall St., Kingston, N. Y.

SNYDER HAS WARD'S CONFIDENCE

More than thirty years' residence in the Twelfth ward has given J. Charles Snyder such intimate knowledge of the ward, its men and women and their needs that his re-election to the office of supervisor, for which he has been renominated by the Republicans, should be only a matter of how big a majority the voters will give him.

As alderman and as supervisor Mr. Snyder has looked after the interests of the voters and taxpayers with the utmost care. As health officer of the city he also proved one of the most efficient public officials the city ever has known and his wide experience has been turned to the advantage of his constituents at all times. As health officer, alderman and supervisor he has always been a tireless worker for the best interests of the city and county.

Mr. Snyder has not confined his activities to the positions mentioned. For many years he has been known as one of the most active volunteer firemen in the city and for twenty-five years his work on their behalf has been recognized by his election as for that period as president of the Kingston City Firemen's Association.

In private as well as public life, Mr. Snyder always has proved himself genial and obliging, always striving to help everyone and to give everyone a chance, working early and late for the benefit of his ward, his city and his county, whose interests are dear to him. As a public official he has shown himself at all times to be a servant of the people, believing fully the adage that "public office is a public trust."

VANAKEN'S RECORD HIS RELIANCE

E. Otis Van Aken has been renominated by Republicans of the Tenth ward for supervisor and his record should insure his re-election by a large majority.

For upward of thirty years Mr. Van Aken has been a resident of the city of Kingston. For the past twenty-four years he has been engaged in the contracting business and during that time has come in contact with every industry and every large business establishment in the city and with most of them in the county of Ulster.

As a practical man of business affairs, Mr. Van Aken is needed in the board of supervisors, where his judgment is highly respected by his associates. The business man's point of view is valuable in all public matters and a man who has successfully conducted his own business can be entrusted with the business of his constituents with perfect safety.

Preceding his service in the board of supervisors, Mr. Van Aken rendered valuable service to the Tenth ward and to the city at large as alderman and as president of the common council. His record both in the common council and the county legislature has given him the confidence of the people who know that his interest in the ward, the city and the county is to make the community grow. Growth is best accomplished by clean, representative government which looks after every section and makes the county and city a desirable place in which to live or carry on business. With his broad experience in both public and private business, Mr. Van Aken has shown his pre-eminent qualifications for the office of supervisor.

Not only has Mr. Van Aken taken an active interest in public affairs, but he has also been interested in every movement for the betterment of Kingston. For many years he has served as an active fireman and has been instrumental in procuring many improvements for the volunteer firemen of the city.

SPECIAL NO. 10.
La Rosa Corona Sold at 2 for 25c. Our price 10c each. Ten Broeck's Drug Store.—Advertisement.

Flower Sermon.
Flower sermon had its origin in St. Catherine's, England. On Whit Monday each of the congregation carried a bunch of flowers, and a larger bunch was laid on the pulpit cushion. The custom has spread, but it has somewhat changed. Now in many churches the flower sermon is preached on Sunday and the church is decorated with flowers, the members of the congregation also being furnished with them to the service. The time of holding this service varies in different churches, but it is usually held in the spring or early summer when there is an abundance of garden flowers.

BUSINESS NOTICES.
MOVING AND STORAGE.
I moved van for local and long distance. Plans: loading, A. K. Kohn, 749 Broadway, Telephone 1847-W.

Home shoe repairing. Perry Brothers, 146 West Fortson street. Rubber heels a specialty. Work called for. Telephone 1522-M.

CHRYSANTHEMUMS.
The glorious autumn flower now in season. Talbot's Burgers, Inc. Fair and Main streets.

ANNOUNCEMENT.
I have taken over the shoe repairing shop, 262 Broadway, where I will do only quality shoe-making and repairing. Formerly with the famous shop in New York City. Give me a trial. A. Newman, 262 Broadway, Kingston, N. Y.

SCHURMAN'S AUTO SERVICE.
Care for all cars, open and closed. 3 and 7 passenger touring cars. Truck-repairing. FRIGID. SCHURMAN, Prop., P. O. Box 24, Edenville, N. Y. Tel. 3-P-4.

Mathew's auto repair shop, 119 Broadway. Phone 24-W. All work guaranteed.

BUSINESS NOTICES.
Taxi. Phone 1076. Day or Night Service. 50 cents for 1 or 2 passengers and 25 cents for each additional passenger. Van Etten's Taxi Service.

CHARLES A. VAN ETEN.
Elmer Folen will have 40 head of good second hand horses, also 100 chickens and 10 pigs, also 50 head of cows, some fresh milking cows, some to freshen soon and some good beef cows. All horses and cows will be sold for the high dollar for his sale Tuesday, November 1. Sale starts 1 p. m. sharp, rain or shine, at 622-634 Broadway, Kingston, N. Y.

M. NEWKIRK & SON. General trucking; baggage express. Tel. 1268-W.

FOX'S TAXI SERVICE.
Day and night. Phone 1027.

Elmer Folen has got 40 head of good cows for sale at the widow Krator's place. Plant Road.

ANNOUNCEMENT.
DR. SIDNEY D. WOLFF wishes to announce the opening of his new dental office at 2 East Strand (Masonic Building), corner Broadway and Strand. Tel. 411.

TOWN'S EXPRESS & MOVING.
Estimates given on all classes of work. 221 Elmwood street. Tel. 1221-R.

FOX'S TAXI SERVICE.
Day and night. Phone 1027-J.

FACTORY HILL ENDS.
Sole on Elmhurst. David W. 44 Elmer Bergman House.

FACTORY HILL ENDS.
McGaughey, 63 Broadway. Tel. 1025-J. Express and heavy trucking, any distance by motor. Phone 1543-J.

BUSINESS NOTICES.
When it's trucking, local or long distance, call 885-J. FINE'S baggage express, 31 Clinton avenue.
Perry's Express, 17 Staples street. Baggage, Trucking, Local Moving. Phone 71-M.

KINGSTON LAUNDRY.
Why break your back doing the family wash when we can do the wash for you at very little cost. Satisfaction guaranteed. 35 Broadway. Telephone 1288.

The Daily Freeman is on sale at the following stands of the Scholastic News Agency in New York City: 102 West 42nd Street, 42nd Street and Park Avenue, (opposite Grand Central Depot), 36th Street and Broadway, (N. W. Corner), 42nd Street and Sixth Avenue, (S. W. Corner).

For lowest estimate on PAINTING AND PAPERHANGING, call on Herman Meyer, 45 Lincoln street. Tel. 271-M.

WILLIAM MILLER'S TAXI SERVICE. 42 Elmwood St. has given satisfaction for 21 years. Look for blue paint on doors. Special cars for weddings and funerals. Phone 17.

If you want good service and to save 25 per cent in the tax fare, call on the Superior Taxi Service, 297 Wall street, corner John street. Telephone 1258.

WHY OPERATE EXTENSIVE CARS.
When you can engage our New Large or Small Limousines, with Uniformed Chauffeurs, from $2.50 to $12.50 per hour.

RENT-A-TAXI SERVICE PHONE 31.
By C. EDWARDS, Chiropractor, Specialist in Chronic Complaints, 237 Washington Avenue; call to home, 237 Broadway, N. Y. City, or before the Broadway, Kingston, N. Y.

PACKARD

The Packard Single-Six car is reduced in price $625. No other automobile in the world that even approximates the Single-Six in quality sells within several hundred dollars of so low a price.

now $2350 at Detroit

Twenty-one years of experience in quality motor car manufacture is behind the Single-Six. Through and through, it is every inch a Packard. It is built alongside the famous Packard Twin-Six, by the same experienced organization. It is made, sold and serviced in the real Packard way. Come see this remarkable car. Drive it. Learn for yourself why thousands of owners already regard it as the motor car triumph of the times.

The Touring Car . . . formerly $2975 . . . is now $2350
The Runabout . . . formerly $2975 . . . is now $2350
The Coupe formerly $3750 . . . is now $3125
The Sedan formerly $3975 . . . is now $3350

New prices effective, October 24, 1921

F. O. B. Detroit.

SUTLIFF, INC.

KINGSTON. POUGHKEEPSIE.

Ask the man who owns one

High Power Rifle SPECIALS

SAVAGE 30-30 CAL.
SAVAGE 303 CAL.
700 YARDS RANGE

REGULAR PRICE	- -	$48.00
OUR PRICE	- -	$37.85

COME AND GET ONE NOW.

Charles A. Warren

260 FAIR ST., KINGSTON, N. Y.

QUALITY SIZE

VALUE
THREE REASONS FOR THE ENORMOUS SALE OF

Fitzpatrick & Draper's MONOGRAM CIGAR

3 for 25c
MONOGRAM JUNIOR
"A Ship of the Old Block"
5 CENTS STRAIGHT

C. V. L. PITTS & SONS

Watch, clock and jewelry repairing. Band engraving. Eye glasses repaired.

404 WALL STREET.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS—In pursuance of an order of Hon. George F. Kaufman, Surrogate of Ulster County, notice is hereby given, according to law, to all persons having claims against Thomas J. Draper, who has been appointed executor of the estate of said deceased, to file in the office of the said Surrogate, in the City of Kingston, County of Ulster, New York, on or before the first day of November, 1921, a statement of the nature and amount of such claims, with the necessary vouchers to support them, to the undersigned, Robert Draper, one of the administrators of the estate of said deceased, at the office of Charles A. Warren, 260 Fair Street, in the City of Kingston, N. Y., on or before the first day of November, 1921.

ROBERT DRAPER, Administrator.
THOMAS J. DRAPER, Executor.